15TH YEAR. NO. 225.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, MARCH 6, 1900.

TWO CENTS

AN ANSWER TO HOAR

President Sent the Philippine Correspondence to Senate.

Aguinaldo's Representative, in the Correspondence Regarding Sick Spanish Prisoners, Protested Against What He Treated Suspiciousness of Americans.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The president sent to the senate the correspondence called for by a resolution of Senator Hoar, asking for information relative to our course in the Philippines.

It is a very voluminous record, containing much that has already been made public and includes instructions by the president, proclamations by the Philippine commission and General Otis' reports of officers in the Philippines, all communications received from Aguinaldo or his associates or proclamations issued by them, information concerning the treatment of prisoners or other inhabitants of the island by the insurgents and also such information as has been received "as to aid or encouragement received by Aguinaldo and his followers from persons in the United States, as to what pamphlets, speeches or other documents emanating in the United States and adverse to its authority and its policy were circulated in whole or in part among the Filipinos in arms against the United States among other inhabitants of the island, or among the soldiers of the United States."

Referring to General Otis' proclamation, the president says:

"No disapproval of the said proclamation was expressed by my authority or that of the war department. It was, in fact, approved by me, although no formal communication to that effect was sent to General Otis."

Included in the correspondence of last October between General MacArthur and Aguinaldo's representative, General Ambrose Flores, in regard to the delivery of sick Spanish prisoners, is a protest against what he terms the "suspiciousness" of the Americans. He says:

"The treatment awarded necessarily corresponds with our political condition," adding that "in the name of soldierly honor I protest against such suspicion, as we have never resorted to indirect means in order to wrest by artifice the recognition of our beloved independence.

In this connection, a cablegram from General Corbin is given, dated Nov. 10, endorsing General Otis' course in the matter of the Spanish prisoners. He says:

"The letters of the insurgents imply a threat. Unless you see strong reasons to the contrary, notify Aguinaldo that he and his advisers will be held personally responsible for any injury done to Spanish or American prisoners in violation of the laws and usages of war among civilized nations."

The instructions to General Merritt are transmitted, but not those to General Otis, which, the report says, were given in cipher. The instructions from the president to General Merritt May 28, 1898, direct the issuance of a proclamation saying that "we came not to make war upon the people of the Philippines, nor upon any party or faction among them, but to protect them in their homes, in their employments and in their personal and religious rights. All persons who either by active aid or by honest admission co-operate with the United States in its efforts to give effect to this beneficent purpose will receive the reward of its support and protection. Our occupation should be as free from severity as possible."

The president's instructions to the Philippine commission of Jan. 20, 1899, are given in full. The president wrote:

"The commission may render valuable services by examining with special care the legislative needs of the various groups of inhabitants and by reporting with recommendations, the measures which should be instituted for the maintenance of order, peace and public welfare."

"It is my desire that in all their relations with the inhabitants of the Philippine islands, the commissioners exercise due respect for all the ideals, customs and institutions of the tribes and races which compose the population, emphasizing upon all occasions the just and benevolent intentions of the government of the United States. It is also my wish and expectation that the commissioners may be received in a manner due to the honored and authorized representatives

The record shows that on the 4th of May, 1899, President Schurman, of the commission, notified Secretary Hay of a cessation of hostilities in order to get a vote from the insurgent congress in favor of autonomy, to which Secretary Hay replied as follows:

"You are authorized to propose that under the military power of the president, pending the action of congress, government of the Philippines shall consist of governor general appointed by the president; a cabinet appointed by the governor general, a general advisory council elected by the people, the qualifications of the electors to be carefully considered and determined and the governor general to have an absolute veto.

RUMORED FEAR OF YAQUIS.

Nothing Known in Washington of Orders to Border Commanders.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said at the war department that no advices have been received here as to the coming of the Yaquis, as is reported from Benson, A. T., and consequently no orders have been issued either from the department or, so far as it is known, from General Merriam, who is now in Washington.

It is further stated that no orders from Washington would be necessary even if the rumor were true, as the military commanders along the border line between the United States and Mexico have standing instructions to head off any Indian bands fleeing from Mexican justice and discipline.

Pension Appropriation Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The senate passed the pension appropriation bill. The measure appropriates $145,245,230.

PREPARE TO RETALIATE.

German Wines Being Examined For Adulteration—Our Attitude on Meat Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said in official circles here that there is nothing for the United States government to do at this stage in the working out of the policy of the German government respecting the treatment of American meats. Our government has uniformly insisted that no foreign power had any right to catechise it respecting pending legislation, and has sharply rebuked foreign ministers in Washington where, in isolated instances, they have disregarded this injunction.

Although the United States is not named in the German meat bill, the measure does directly discriminate against American meat in imposing conditions which are impossible of compliance by American shippers, owing to the long ocean voyage, while easy to meet by the meat shippers in adjoining countries like Belgium, Russia, Austria and Holland. After the year 1904 these countries will be in the same class as the United States, the bill excluding all meats after that date.

The officials here show no open resentment at the recently discovered effort of the German government to prevent our consuls from acquiring any information as to the adulteration of German goods and the existence of disease among German animals, but they are quietly collecting evidence, such for instance as complete analyses of German wines entering the United States which are now being made by the department of agriculture with a special view to the detection of adulteration.

FOR PLAYING "SAPHO."

Olga Nethersole and Others Held For Court—Production of Play Stopped.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Police Magistrate Mott held Olga Nethersole, Hamilton Revelle, Marcus Mayer and Theodore Ross for trial on the charge of presenting an immoral play ("Sapho") at Wallack's theater. Bail was fixed at $800 each, which was given.

The superintendent of police has been notified, and on him rests the responsibility of stopping the production of the play.

The actress finally stopped producing the play, the theatre being closed last night.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The presidential party reached Washington from New York. The return trip was made without special incident.

TRUBLE WITH CECIL RHODES.

Colonel Kekewich and the Diamond Magate Had Differences—He Asked Roberts What to Do With Him—The General's Half Humorous Reply.

LENDON, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force already ready on the way from Kimberley can raise the siege. This force is described vaguely as "strong." The Kimberley Light Horse is mentioned as a component. In view of the fact that the Kimberley Light Horse is under the control of the De Beers company, Lord Roberts' visit to Kimberley probably had to do with an arrangement with Cecil Rhodes to this company of troops.

Mr. Rhodes and Colonel Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which did not end with the relief of Kimberley. "What shall I do with him?" Colonel Kekewich is said to have wired to Lord Roberts, who half-humorously replied, according to a story circulated at the clubs, "put him in chains."

Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has ceased again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen.

Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch.

Martial law has consequently been declared.

Mr. Chamberlain's request for 2,500 additional Australian bushmen is understood to be explained by the fact that the war office requires this force for the pursuit of irreconcilable Boers, who, according to the intelligence department, have been quietly collecting great quantities of ammunition and stores in the mountain fastnesses of the Zoutpansberg district, in the north of the Transvaal, where they are preparing to carry on guerrilla warfare.

CAPE TOWN, March 6.—Sir Alfred Milner issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, The enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Prieska, Kenhardt, Britstown and Barkley West, and whereas many British subjects have taken up arms, and whereas, it is necessary to repel invasion and suppress rebellion, now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

BULLER'S HEAVY LOSSES.

From Feb. 14 to 27, He Had 72 Killed and 708 Wounded.

LONDON, March 6.—General Buller's casualties from Feb. 14 to Feb. 27 were: Killed, 72; wounded, 708; missing, 24.

INTIMIDATION BY SOLDIERS

Witnesses Testified the Negroes Even Insulted Women in Idaho—Lentz's Proposed Queries.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Moses S. Simmons continued his testimony before the house committee on military affairs in the Coeur d'Alene investigation. He testified to the circumstances of his removal from office shortly after the mining demonstration, his arrest and imprisonment in the county jail for five days. A sharp controversy occurred between Chairman Hull and Representative Lentz, who conducted the examination as to whether the witness should state his opinion on the necessity for martial law. On a vote the committee sustained Mr. Hull and excluded this line of inquiry. The witness said he did not have a fair trial on his removal from office.

William Powers testified that he was night watchman and constable at Mullan, Idaho, at the time of the demonstration at Wardner. He disclaimed any knowledge of the blowing up of the mining property. He saw two wagon loads of men returning from Wardner, late in the day, after the explosion. The town was entirely quiet and men went about their work as usual. Then he was arrested and finally landed in the "bull pen."

Powers said the families of imprisoned men suffered until a commissary store was established at Mullan and about $11,000 of charitable contributions from labor organs and the Anti-Trust association was distributed. The military terrorized the people. Women complained that negro soldiers attempted to enter their homes. He knew of no complaints to the commanding officers and there was no investigation.

On cross-examination efforts were made to get the names of the men who returned after the blowing up of the mining property. Mr. Lentz protested. The witness said he had furnished them to the sheriff.

He was treated kindly in the "bull pen" and saw no outrages. He and the sheriff intended to arrest the ring leaders of the crowd which blew up the mining property, but his own arrest prevented action on his part.

Mr. Lentz asked that the committee again call on the war department for all telegrams connected with the subject, and particularly the original instructions to General Merriam. This was agreed to.

Mr. Lentz also asked that President McKinley be asked to submit affidavits alleged to have been filed by citizens of Idaho, showing that there was no need of martial law, and that abuses were occurring under the military system. This request went over, Chairman Hull expressing doubt as to the right to call on the president for papers. The committee admitted the plea of Attorney General Hayes, of Idaho, in the habeas corpus proceedings. Mr. Lentz's purpose being shown by it, that the state conceded that the writ of habeas corpus was suspended.

Judge Lentz was followed with the closest attention. The heartiest applause was given to his assertion that the aim of the United States is not to exploit trade in the Philippines, but to serve the interests of the people of those islands.

Governor George K. Nash followed Judge Day, speaking pleasantly of Judge Taft as a citizen, lawyer and a judge.

Judge Judson Harmon, attorney general under the last Cleveland administration, was the next speaker.

He created a sensation in his opening sentence. "If you had met to approve the general course of the government with the Philippines," Judge Harmon said, "I should not be here. For 100 years we contented ourselves with words of sympathy for peoples struggling as we once struggled, for freedom and independence. Here, for the first time, an opportunity came to help in such a struggle without breaking our settled policy. We joined ranks with the native patriots against the common enemy.

Whether any one made or was authorized to make promises to them is of no consequence.

Our history and principles are a perpetual promise; and no one will deny that when the Filipinos joined forces with us, they believed, and we know that they believed, success would mean the fulfillment of their hopes."

The silence which marked the opening remarks by Judge Harmon was intense. He produced undisguised surprise when he hinted that one of the best qualifications of Judge Taft for this mission was the fact that he was not an expansionist.

Judge William H. Taft, who followed, said in part:

"The commission is not organized. Its members have never conferred together. I speak, therefore, for myself alone. Like Judge Harmon and unlike Chairman Ingalls, I am not now and never have been an expansionist. I have always hoped that the jurisdiction of our nation would not extend beyond territory between the two oceans. We have not solved all the problems of popular government so perfectly as to justify our voluntarily seeking more difficult ones abroad.

"My conviction is that the calm investigation of the future historian into all the conditions existing at the time of taking each step toward the present situation in the Philippines will lead him to conclude that President McKinley and his administration selected in each crisis the only alternative which a due regard to our national and international obligations would permit."

Judge Taft was frequently interrupted with applause, which was especially vigorous when he announced the charge given by the president to the new commission and when he spoke of the necessity of enforcing civil service in the Philippines. At the close of his address the entire assembly arose and cheered to the echo the distinguished guest of the evening.

The presentation of a handsome silver loving cup to Judge Taft closed the exercises, and the guests departed after singing "America."

The Poet's Choice.

"I don't care for your poem, 'The Song of the Lark,'" remarked the editor. The poet sighed wearily.

"To tell the truth," he replied, "I myself much prefer the lay of the hen."—Philadelphia Record.

TAFT NOT IN ACCORD

Acknowledged He Was Not an Expansionist.

HARMON SPRANG A SENSATION.

The Ex-Attorney General Said the Filipinos Had Trusted This Nation, Knowing Its History—Judge William R. Day Spoke—Yet Taft Upheld McKinley.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The complimentary dinner given at the Queen City club to Judge William H. Taft, the recently appointed president of the Philippine commission, by his friends and neighbors, was unique in its elegance and its good will.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four Railroad company, presided as toastmaster. After reading a letter of regret from Secretary of War Root, who was unable to attend, and after speaking in a happy vein of Judge Taft and his great mission, he introduced Judge William R. Day, late secretary of state, who spoke of the negotiation of the treaty of peace with Spain.

Judge Day was followed with the closest attention. The heartiest applause was given to his assertion that the aim of the United States is not to exploit trade in the Philippines, but to serve the interests of the people of those islands.

Governor George K. Nash followed Judge Day, speaking pleasantly of Judge Taft as a citizen, lawyer and a judge.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being made in the Chester Heights cemetery. He will be the third person to be buried in the new grounds.

The school directors of the Grant district school will not meet until after the close of the present school term, which is in April. One of the members said yesterday that a new school building was needed, and that very likely some steps would be taken during the summer for the erection of a new building or for remodeling the present building.

Work Was Delayed.

WILL START MONDAY.

Pathetic Death of a Little East End Girl—News of the Suburb.

President J. R. Warner, of the National Pottery company, is authority for the statement that the National pottery will commence operations next Monday. The clay presses are now being placed in position, and unless present indications fail, arrangements to start the plant will be carried out to the letter. Thus East End will have in operation another industry. For years the flint mill, sewerpipe works and East End pottery were the only industries in that part of the city, but now matters are changed. The Laughlin China company and the National pottery mean much to the suburb, and some public spirited men in East End stand ready and willing to assist any other company which desires to build a factory and locate in that part of the city. The National pottery will employ in the neighborhood of probably 125 persons, and some of these will make their home in the new Fifth ward, intending to move there during the spring and summer.

DEATH RELIEVED HER.

Pathetic Death of a Little Girl Who Has Been an Invalid Since Birth.

There died in East End yesterday afternoon, shortly before three o'clock, a little child who was an invalid since its birth. She was the five year old daughter of Mrs. Duncan, of St. George street, and a niece of David Duncan, who is employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery. The child was blind. Death was caused by a tumor in the brain, near the eye. Several times she was taken to Pittsburg and other cities where examinations were conducted, but no operation was ever performed. Yesterday afternoon word was sent to Dr. Mowen that the child was ill and those in the house did not think it could live, but before he reached the house, it was dead.

NEW OFFICERS.

Will Be Elected by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Pres. Church.

Tomorrow evening the regular monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church will be held. New officers will be elected to serve for the balance of the year. Mrs. George McKinnon is ill at her home on Railroad street with grip.

Resigned His Position.

Harry Merchant, for sometime engineer at the East End pottery, has resigned his position. The plant is now without an engineer, and until one is secured some inconvenience will result to other parts of the pottery.

Will Give a Dance.

A private dance will be given this evening at the home of Mrs. Fetty in Dixonville.

Born.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George Steele,

In the East childlessness is considered a curse from the gods. It is a pathetic sight to see some childless Hindoo mother prostrate before an idol, imploring that the curse of childlessness may be taken away.

Are we much wiser than the heathen? Thousands of childless women are not as they suppose under Nature's ban, but are suffering from a diseased condition of the delicate feminine organs. It may be debilitating drains or female weakness, and perhaps an ulcerated and inflamed condition of the parts. In any case the diseased condition must be removed and a healthy condition established before the maternal function can be fulfilled.

Many a mother acknowledges her debt to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and its inventor Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who invites the sick to write and consult him without charge. "Favorite Prescription" promptly allays irritation, heals ulceration, checks the debilitating drains, cures female weakness and the accompanying bearing down pains. It gives vitality and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, and establishes the natural conditions which make for the easy birth of healthy children.

There is nothing just as good for you as "Favorite Prescription." Don't be put off with a substitute.

"I have never written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest thirteen pound girls that ever came into a home," writes Mrs. M. Vastine, of 647 South Liberty St., Galesburg, Ill. "When I wrote you about my ailments I was living in Richland, Iowa. I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four vials of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Before I had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I was a new woman. I cannot make pen describe my heartfelt gratitude."

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Missionary society of the Second U. P. church will hold a meeting in the church next Thursday afternoon. An interesting program has been prepared.

Personals.

John Miller, of Hanover, Pa., spent yesterday in the East End, the guest of J. B. Van Fossen.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our sincere thanks to Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church; to the choir of the First M. E. church; to the employees of the Dresden pottery; to the members of the Young Men's Christian association, and to the neighbors and friends in general who were so unselfishly kind to us in our sad bereavement, in the death of our beloved son and brother, William R. Mountford.

MRS. ELIZA MOUNTFORD AND FAMILY.

Now is the time to leave your order for a spring suit at F. Laufenberger's and avoid the rush.

Burglars Foiled.

LISBON, March 6.—[Special.]—Burglars tried to make an entrance to the residence of Mrs. H. C. McElroy on North Market street last night but were frightened off by neighbors whose attention was attracted by the screams of Mrs. McElroy.

HON. ISAAC H. TAYLOR

This Eminent Jurist Is a Candidate Before the People For Re-election.

By reference to regular card in another column, it will be noted that Hon. Isaac H. Taylor is a candidate for re-election to the position of common pleas judge. The Republican Standard, of Carrollton, Ohio, speaks of his candidacy in the following terms:

"The first sub-division of the ninth judicial district is composed of the counties of Carroll, Columbiana and Stark. The judges now occupying the bench are Thomas T. McCarty, of Canton; Warren W. Hole, of Salem; Isaac H. Taylor, Carrollton. Thus each of the counties of the district has a judge.

"Here they is, lady," he said.

"Well, just put them down under the berth, please," said she. The man hesitated a moment.

"Can you put them on by yourself?" he asked.

"What, the shoes?" asked the lady.

"No, miss," answered the porter. "I means your feet. Ain't these yere things feet?"

Since then she has carried the gaily looking boot trees in her trunk.—Washington Post.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

As Seen From a Democratic Standpoint—Potts' Patriot Speaks.

The Lisbon Patriot (Democratic) says: "The Republicans of this congressional district are all stirred up over the coming contest between Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. C. C. Baker, of Alliance, for congressional honors. The primaries in this county take place March 24, and the forces are lining up in the field of action." Baker's friends now claim that he will carry 50 delegates out of the 81 in this county. Tayler's manager, however, disputes this, and claims a solid delegation. It is quite certain that most of the active politicians of the court house ring are against Tayler, and that means much to Baker. The ringsters generally have things their own way. The court house is a hotbed of opposition to Tayler, but he claims to be strong with the masses. The soldier element is for Tayler, and that will mean a great many votes to him in the county. Many charges are made against Tayler, among them being these two: First—He is not social with the people. He passes them on the street without recognition. He knows them only when he wants their votes. Second—He has never made an effort to get federal appointments for his constituents in this county. He never tried to exert an influence with the president, but sat still and let others get the plums. He allowed Mr. Laylin to be appointed receiver of the First National, when, if he had even turned his hand over, he could have secured the appointment of George B. Harvey. These are the things urged against him, and they are having a telling effect. It now looks as though Baker would beat Tayler."

W. H. Streets Was Taken to the West Penn This Morning. Dislocated His Arm.

W. H. Streets, who had his arm dislocated several weeks ago in attempting to get on a moving street car, was taken to the West Penn hospital this morning by Dr. W. A. Beane. Streets had the misfortune to throw his arm out after it had been set and did not go to the physician until after it had begun to knit. It will require some time to get his arm in place again and it may always be stiff.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"A Trip to Chinatown" Tonight.

Hoyt's famous satire, "A Trip to Chinatown," opened at the Duquesne last night to a crowded house. It was constructed for laughing purposes, and it never made an audience laugh more heartily than it did that of last night. There is a wealth of unusual farce-comedy scenery and a number of strikingly pretty girls who help in the general effect. The funny story of the Chinatown expedition which never occurred is retained, but that is all there is of the old farce. Harry Gilfoil is the new Welland Strong. He made a hit last night, and as a companion in the dashing Chicago widow, Miss Mabel Montgomery shared honors with him.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Guy Bros.' Minstrels.

Thursday night, at the Grand, the theater going public of the city will have a chance to see a first-class minstrel show given by Guy Brothers. The six Guy brothers, in their separate roles, are star artists, and improve with age. They have a company of first class minstrel artists and never fail to please. Watch for the grand parade at noon.

A SECURE INVESTMENT

It Is Better Than a Mortgage or Real Estate.

In these days of active speculation it is more secure and pays better to deposit your savings in the Pittsburg bank for savings, No. 210 Fourth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., where it earns 4 per cent interest, compounded twice a year, than to take the chance in investments not absolutely sure of a dividend. You can deposit by mail as easily and safely as in person in this bank. Write or call for booklet describing how it is done.

Chinese Inquests.

Coroners' inquests are well known among the Chinese. One of the chief differences between their system and ours is that the Chinese doctors never dissect. In fact, Chinamen have a perfect horror of dissection.

There are few things more absurd than the code of rules laid down for the Chinese coroner. In the first place, he is bidden to make sure that he has a dead body before he begins his inquest. That, however, is less ridiculous than it sounds, for the heathen Chinee is tricky and may demand an inquest on a sham deceased with a view of extorting money from some person who may be denounced as having caused the death.

The preposterous part of the code comes in with regard to the alleged signs which show the cause of death. If the deceased is supposed to have been poisoned, rice is put into his mouth and then taken out and given to a chicken. Its effect on the fowl decides the question. Most of the other methods adopted are even more absurd and fanciful, and, as a result, inquests in China do very little to prevent crime.—Chicago News.

He Won the Bet.

A showman was making great noise at the front of the exhibition of "wonders" he had on show. A man standing in the crowd, with a little dog beside him, cried out:

"I'll bet you a quid you can't let me see a lion."

"Done!" said the showman eagerly.

"Put down your money."

The man placed a sovereign in the hand of a bystander, and the showman did the same.

"Now walk this way," said the showman, "and I'll soon convince you. There!" said he triumphantly. "Look in that corner at the beautiful Numidian lion."

"I don't see any," responded the other.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the showman.

"I'm blind," was the reply, and in a few minutes the blind man pocketed the two sovereigns and went away.—London Answers.

The Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The strength in wheat caused early Monday by earlier cables, later gave way to the bearish aspect of the movement and the lack of demand. May closed $\frac{1}{4}$ @ $\frac{3}{4}$ c down. May corn closed $\frac{3}{8}$ c, and May oats a shade lower. Provisions at the close were $2\frac{1}{2}$ @ $7\frac{1}{2}$ c depressed from Saturday. May wheat opened $\frac{1}{8}$ c over Saturday, at $66\frac{1}{2}$ c, encouraged by higher cables.

ONE vote for clean government is worth all the resolutions ever passed.

THE British government refuses to license American dentists. Haven't got enough pull, perhaps.

REPUBLICANS and Democrats alike are wondering how such a man as Joseph
Sibley could ever have been a Democrat.

AS USUAL, the Democratic national convention will be held after the Republican. If it met before it wouldn't know what it was to declare against.

SUPPOSING Bryan was elected next fall—just supposing, you know there's absolutely no chance whatever of his really being elected—but supposing he was, what do you suppose he would do with the Philippines?

ODD, ISN'T IT?

The Democrats claim that present
prosperity just happened, that the Republican party had nothing to do with it.
Strange that it was never known to happen during a Democratic administration.

POINTER FOR FILIPINOS.

The 9,000 American soldiers in Cuba
will soon be reduced to 5,000, the restoration of order in the island permitting the withdrawal of the others. The deluded Filipino ought to make a note
and settle down.

AS A QUESTION OF VOTES.

The Cleveland Leader, treating the

Clark local option bill as a matter of practical politics and vote-getting, says
there can be no question of the passage of the bill. The total saloon vote of Ohio, according to the Leader's figures, is 30,000. The anti-saloon league has a voting power of 100,000, while the church element is estimated at 250,000.

TRULY JEFFERSONIAN.

Mr. Bryan will please observe that it is proposed to give the Filipinos true
Jeffersonian government. The plan
recommended by the Philippine commission will be the same as that drafted by Jefferson for the government of the Louisiana purchase.

SYMPATHY THAT COST.

After the Democratic members of the state legislature had worked several days getting names to a telegram of sympathy to the Boers, they found it would cost $2,700 to cable the message.
As their sympathy did not go quite that far the cable was not sent. But it beautifully illustrated the Democratic habit of jumping in without counting
the cost.

THE "WHIPPING POST."

As a rule, any humane man or woman will condemn the "whipping post"
as a mode of punishment and term it an uncivilized mode or method of punishment; but, if ever a miserable coward, unworthy of the name of man, deserved a full dose at the whipping post,
the WIFE BEATER is that delectable individual.

IMPORTANCE RECOGNIZED.

The importance of electing good and capable councilmen is apparently becoming better recognized every year.
The Republican primaries in the various cities of this state this spring show a larger proportion of councilmen pledged to reform nominated than at any primaries on record. No municipal office is of more vital importance to the well-being of the community. None can make or mar a city, improve or disgrace
a municipality, more than council, according to whether the men in that body be honest and capable or dishonest and incapable.

REPUBLICAN PAPERS.

Republicans should patronize Republican papers, and Democrats follow the same rule with Democratic papers. This is the general rule all over the land.
Don't warm a serpent at your fireplace
or hearthstone, as the vicious creature
may be revivified and send deadly poison
into your veins. As for the cormorant or bloodsucker, which is no man's friend, and cares only for his shekels, not daring to fling any flag to the breeze, you will do well to avoid it entirely, as some of the late contestants
for municipal office wish they had done,
especially some of the winners.

ASSESSMENTS

ARE ABOLISHED

Practice of Taking Collections In Public Schools

At One of the Most Interesting Meetings
Held For a Long Time—Dr. Williams
Brought Up the Piano and Picture Levies
and Had Them Stopped.

At the meeting of the board of education
last evening Dr. J. C. Taggart was the only member absent. He missed one of the most interesting meetings of the board held during this term of school.
The session, while not lengthy, will mark a new era in the government of the schools inasmuch as the assessment
idea was forever abolished.

Janitor John M. Orr, of the Grant street school, asked for an increase in his salary from $25 to $40 a month. He has a number of extra rooms to take care
of and the board gave him an increase, dating from January 1. He is now receiving the same salary as the janitor of the Sixth street building.

James Whetton, janitor of the East End school, wanted $5 for cleaning the small school building on Pennsylvania avenue last summer, but action was deferred until the next meeting.

paid: Ohio Valley Gas company, $267.15; Fort Pitt Gas company, $7.80; Telephone company, $24.75; H. W. Corns, $40; typewriter cabinet, $53.80; Diamond Hardware company, 55 cents; Thomas Wolf, $8.15; Bowen, Merrill & Co., $96; Eagle Hardware company, $137.36; Robert Moore, $88.62; R. E. Rayman, expenses to Chicago, $30.20. Total, $473.88.

L. C. Williams rose to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the renting
of a piano for Miss Austin's room in the Central building. He understood the scholars some time ago voted to rent a piano for that room. The piano was rented, and the scholars were assessed a fixed sum each month, 40 cents, to pay the rent. He had heard that some of the scholars had been kept in after hours for failing to bring the assessment. In one instance a child was kept in six times because she did not bring the money for the piano. It was said the child was told to go home and not return until she brought the 40 cents with her. Mr. Williams said he went to see the parents, and was told that the father wrote a note to the teacher about the matter. The father told Mr. Williams that it was not the 40 cents but the principle involved that he objected to.

Mr. Williams' remarks caused a sensation. There was a dead silence for a few moments and then Dr. W. T. Norris arose. He said: "I think it would be a good idea to make a rule to stop this assessment business. The board should pay for such articles if needed."

Mr. Williams continued by saying that they were now making a collection
at the Sixth street school to buy pictures
to place on the walls.

Geo. C. Murphy failed to see anything wrong in that. The scholars were doing this among themselves and the board
had nothing to do with it.

President O. C. Vodrey asked Mr.
Williams if the complaints about this assessment had been brought before the board by the proper channel.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman said
they had not.

President Vodrey said: "The superintendent is in touch with the teachers, scholars and parents, and parents feel ing they have a complaint to make should go to the superintendent."

Doctor Norris: "We had better stop all collections. We purchase readers for the scholars, and why not purchase
other things that are needed in the schools. A child may vote to have a piano placed in the room, but the parents may not have the money to pay the assessment."

Superintendent Rayman said that in all cases where complaints were made,
after both sides were heard, settlements were usually reached easily. The first complaint had yet to be brought to the board for final settlement. They had always been adjusted by the school authorities without having to appeal to the board.

Dr. Williams moved and Dr. Norris
seconded a motion that the assessment
plan be prohibited.

Dr. Williams said in some cases he had been told the names of scholars who had failed to bring their assessment had been posted on the blackboard.

Mr. Rayman said he had not heard of that.

W. B. Hill suggested that the whole matter be investigated before a vote was taken on the motion abolishing assessments.

Mr. Murphy objected, saying that if scholars wanted pictures on the walls of their room they had a perfect right to buy them.

Mr. Hill rose to a point of order, and read from the school rules the following:
"No collection shall be taken up in any of the schools, by the teachers or anyone else, for any purpose whatever;" and also, "Parents or guardians feeling aggrieved shall apply to the superintendent for redress, but in no case shall they seek satisfaction from teachers at their rooms. In case dissatisfaction arises
with the decision of the superintendent
it may be taken to the committee on discipline, and if dissatisfaction arises again an appeal may be taken to the board."

President Vodrey sustained Mr. Hill.

Mr. Williams: "Does this mean,
then, that from now on there shall be no assessment of any kind?"

"It certainly does," said Mr. Hill.

The board then abolished the assessment of $1 on every scholar upon their entry to the high school. This money is used to purchase books for the high school library, but hereafter these books
will be purchased by the board.

The discussion was then ended, and the board instructed the superintendent to extend its sympathy to the family of Mrs. Edwin Roberts, the janitress of the Gardendale school, who died Sunday morning.

Superintendent Rayman, when seen
this morning, said he had notified the teachers to at once prohibit the collection of further assessments in the schools for any purpose. He says he has personally investigated the charges that children
had been sent home for failing to bring assessments and the names of delinquents posted upon the blackboard. The teachers told him that there hadn't been a single case of either kind; no children had been sent home and no names had been posted for failure to pay
assessments.

SELECTED PLANS

FOR NEW ST. STEPHEN'S LAST NIGHT.

Accepted Those of Barnum, of Cleveland—Church to Cost
$15,000 and Seat 600.

The congregation of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church met last evening and decided what kind of a building they would erect to take the place of the church destroyed by fire some weeks
ago. There were three sets of plans examined by the vestry, which met in the rectory, and the plans submitted by Barnum & Hall, of Cleveland, were looked upon with favor by the vestry-
men. All plans were then presented to the congregation, after which they decided to use the plans from the Cleveland architects. The new church will cost not less than $15,000 and will have a seating capacity of 600.

A Forgotten Countersign.

"War with raw recruits in the beginning is apt to lead to many amusing experiences," said the old army officer who saw service in Cuba. "Now, you couldn't ask for better soldiers than we had in Cuba, but a large number of them were new to the business and had much to learn, and, much to their credit,
it can be said that they soon learned it.

"I had occasion to leave our lines one night soon after we arrived in Cuba,
and upon my return it suddenly struck me that I had forgotten the countersign.
I puzzled over it for some time, but for the life of me I couldn't recall the word that had been given out. While I was thinking it over I heard the command:

"Halt! Who comes there?"

"Friend," I answered, thinking that the countersign would come to me in a moment.

"Advance, friend, and give the coun-tersign," said the sentry.

"As the countersign had slipped from me completely I walked up to him and said sharply:

"Call the corporal of the guard!"

"Gosh," answered the sentry, "I knew it was something like that, but I never dreamt if I hadn't forgotten it!
Mosey on!"

"I 'mosied,' but I took the trouble to look up the corporal of the guard and have him give the sentry further instructions regarding the duties of a sentry."—Detroit Free Press.

Charlie Quayle Bitten by a Dog Bitten by a Mad Dog, Yet No Sign of Hydrophobia.

KENSINGTON, March 6.—(Special)—David Quayle, a carpenter on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road, moved from Wellsville to Kensington in October and in moving took with him a pet dog. Soon after the dog was bitten by another, supposed to have been mad. Quayle's dog showed no signs of madness, however, and, it was thought, had passed all danger. About nine weeks ago Quayle's ten-year-old boy Charlie was lying on the floor with one arm thrown over his head, when the dog suddenly sprang upon him and bit him in the cheek, knocking out a tooth. The dog was at once killed. Although it was feared the boy would have hydrophobia, no sign of it was apparent. Last Thursday the boy took sick. Anything white in the room where he lay threw him into convulsions. Sunday evening he died. He was conscious up to the last and passed away painlessly. His funeral was held from the Wellsville Methodist Protestant church today. The case is regarded as a remarkable one.

DRUNKEN WOMEN.

They Staggered Along Our Public Streets Yesterday Evening.

It was a most disgusting sight as the females staggered along our public thoroughfares, one of the number upheld by a male companion, while little children, boys and girls, gazed and wondered and made comment. There were two men and two women in the party, and common decency should have required that they be assisted into the Black Maria and conveyed to the cooler. Speed the day when no such disgusting and shameful sights shall be witnessed in this pottery center.

A Run Away Horse Made Very Fast Time Down Avondale Street Sunday Night.

There was quite an exciting run off on Avondale street Sunday night. A man named Buchheit and a young lady named McCurran were out buggy riding when the horse became gay. The animal started at the top of the street and went down hill at the rate of a mile a minute, the driver being powerless to check its mad flight. When the bottom of the hill was reached the horse jumped clear across the sidewalk and landed the buggy in a hole, while the occupants of the vehicle were precipitated into space but sustained no injuries when they alighted on terra firma. The buggy was badly wrecked.

"How will it go away?" replied little Edith, her voice broken with sobs. "I can't take my teeth out like you can, mamma."—Ohio State Journal.

And He Was Wanted to Answer to a Charge of Non-Support, but He Took Leave.

Yesterday a warrant was made out for the arrest of Charles Kell upon a charge of non-support. Kell was arrested a short time ago and the case was settled, but Kell refused to live up to the agreement and Constable Miller went after him. He found that Kell was working at the pottery of R. Thomas & Sons, but when Miller arrived there with the warrant Kell went out another door. He was pursued by the constable to his home, but again escaped and last night Miller went to Yellow Creek in the hope of securing his man, but failed to get a sight of him. It is thought he went to Steubenville, and Miller says he will get him in the end.

Future Punishment.

I do not believe the punishment will be any greater in the next world for what we do and perhaps not so great as for that which we do not do. A poor, unfortunate being, born of de-praved parents, knowing nothing but sin of the worst kind, surely is not as responsible for his condition as one born of good parents amid Christian surroundings. If we sit with our hands-folded, puffed up with silly pride, afraid of the opinion of society, afraid to lend a helping hand, afraid to love them and afraid of their love, surely God is more displeased with us, with our foolish pride, than He is with them in their sin and ignorance.—Martina B. THE OCEAN PEDDLER.

IN CONTRABAND GOODS HE FINDS GREATEST PROFITS

Methods of Trading Vessels That Go to Many Out of the Way Corners of the World—How the Captain Disposes of his Cargo.

The man with a pack on his back, trudging from village to village and offering for sale at cottage and farmhouse a miscellaneous collection of wares, has his counterpart in the ocean peddler, ranging in size from a schooner trading among the islands of the Pacific to a steamer of 1,000 to 2,000 tons burden.

The ocean peddler starts out from Hamburg or San Francisco, the chief home ports of the trade, with a definite object in view. Sailing from the former city the course is generally laid either to the coast of Africa or South America, having in the hold a varied assortment of goods likely to be marketable in the regions visited—cotton fabrics, trinkets, arms, ammunition, liquors and all spare room filled up with coal.

As the largest profits are often derived from the sale of contraband goods, such as munitions of war to insurgent bodies, and as detection by regular authorities would lead to confiscation, several thousand rounds of cartridges are probably done up in innocent looking cases stamped "Canned Beef" and a few stands of discarded German army rifles in packages labeled "Glass, With Care."

The captain of such a vessel must possess not only ability as a navigator, but an expert knowledge of the requirements of his trade in addition to a plausible tongue wherewith to barter and win over the good will of an ill disposed official. If he does not own an interest in the ship, it is generally required that he shall in her cargo.

Trudging along over the ocean at a seven or eight knot gait, saving his coal as much as possible, the peddler opens his trade by casting anchor in, say, a South or Central American port, when, having squared the commandant, he invites merchants and others on board to inspect his stock. Duty, of course, has to be paid by the purchaser, but in certain cases that difficulty is often overcome by the visitor to the ship going ashore swollen out perhaps to three times his normal size by as many new suits of clothing.

The greatest good fortune that can fall in the way of an ocean peddler is for an American or British man-of-war to put into some out of the way port in which he is lying, short of coal. Then from his spare stock he sells a few hundred tons at as hard a bargain as the necessity of the purchaser permits him to drive.

On the Central American coast the peddler usually times his visit at about the opening of the coffee season—that is, early in the new year—so that when he has sold out his wares he is able to load up, almost to the water line, with the principal export of the country.

That the ocean peddling trade is not without its dangers is illustrated by a story told by a mate of one of those vessels. In order to preserve his respectable character the contraband goods are sometimes stored in places likely to escape the vigilant eye of the customs officer, and in the case in question the mate's bunk was chosen as the safest repository for certain packages of dynamite consigned to the leaders of a Nicaraguan revolution.

All went well until the night before the ship was due to arrive at her destination, when a thunderstorm occurred, the lightning playing about the masts in an alarming manner. The mate confessed that the idea of turning in upon a bed of dynamite under such circumstances was not conducive to peaceful repose even to one accustomed to sleep through all manner of dangers, but with the reflection that if a flash found its way to his bunk he would not be likely to be made aware of the fact he slumbered serenely through his watch below and next day delivered the "canned tomatoes" safely to the consignee.

The ocean peddling trade on the Pacific has been shorn of much of its profit since the interisland passenger traffic in natives, who too often were carried as passengers, much against their will, to dive for pearls on the great Australian bank, has been effectually suppressed. Still a considerable trade is carried on in small articles of hardware, old clothes, personal trinkets and an occasional case of "dry goods," which, if seized, would turn out to be remarkably wet.—New York Sun.

Old German Wash List.

The old German housewife had a strange way of keeping track of the clothes she gave out to be washed. It was nothing less than a pictorial and perpetual wash list. There was no possibility of making such an error as to mistake the abbreviation Sh. for shirts or St. for stockings. She had pictures of each article and simply wrote down the number of each thing opposite its picture with a piece of chalk, which was erased when the thing was returned and used again on the following week.—Cleveland Leader.

The Truthful Prince.

In his book about Persia, "The Land of the Lion and the Sun," Dr. Wills says that he was once conversing with the king's son, and a large circle of courtiers and priests filled the room. The prince narrated his exploits in hunting the antelope the previous day and gravely stated that while pursuing a pair of antelope when riding a very restive horse his headstall broke.

"What should you have done, doctor?" asked the prince.

"I should have tried to stick on as long as the ground was good and, expecting an accident, have awaited it."

"Ah, that was because you were not a prince," he said. "I leaned forward, and, unclasping my belt, placed it in the horse's mouth as a bridle, and, thus directing him, pursued my game and killed both antelope."

All the circle applauded, as of course they were bound to do. Dr. Wills was silent.

"You don't mean to say you don't believe that?" said the prince. "Speak out if you don't. I shan't be offended in the least."

"Well, your highness, I don't believe it."

"Quite right, daragh bood" (it was a lie), unblushingly replied his royal highness and burst into a fit of laughter quite unabashed. The circle of courtiers, of course, were convulsed.

She Smoked.

A patient of one of the leading specialists who treat polypi in the nose and throat is a woman well known for her work in Sunday schools in this city. She has a record as the organizer of a number of anti-cigarette leagues among the schoolboys. She came to her doctor the other day. He cheered her greatly by telling her he could cure her quickly and without the use of the knife.

"But you must promise to follow my directions," said the doctor, with the suspicion of a twinkle in his eye.

"Oh, I promise," said the lady.

"Without qualification?" asked the physician.

"Absolutely without qualification," answered the lady.

The lady gasped. Visions of what might happen if she were seen with a cigarette between her teeth by any of her pupils floated before her, and she almost fainted. But the doctor was inexorable. The lady followed his directions, and in a week the foreign growth in her nose had disappeared. But that doesn't mean that the lady is now a confirmed cigarette smoker.—United States Tobacco Journal.

How She Knew.

Speaking of kindergartens for colored children calls to mind the experience of a "befo' de war" matron who was teaching one of the little darkies on her plantation how to spell.

The primer she used was a pictorial one, and over each word was its accompanying picture, and Polly glibly spelled o-x, ox, and b-o-x, box, etc. But the teacher thought that she was making rapid progress, so she put her hand over the picture and said:

"Polly, what does o-x spell?"

"Ox," answered Polly nimblly.

"How do you know that it spells ox Polly?"

"Seed his tail," replied the apt Polly—Memphis Scimitar.

Satisfied Her.

Prospective Bride—I know it's foolish, doctor, but to gratify a natural curiosity will you please let me see the form of service you intend to use in marrying us?

The Rev. Dr. Fourthly—It will not be necessary, my dear young woman. I never use the word "obey" in the marriage service.—Chicago Tribune.

Other Features.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Attention in the stock market continued to be largely diverted to the feverish and excited fluctuations of a small number of stocks. Manipulation by the bears was largely responsible for the changes. In the case of sugar the operations of the professional traders were interrupted by the unexpected action of the directors in declaring a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock.

The stock opened under pressure, but, after falling nearly 2 points, encountered very vigorous support and was rallied to 103½ by noon. A 2,000-share lot was taken at that price when the news became known of the dividend action. Enormous selling for both accounts immediately followed, and the prices slumped by wide breaks, with occasional spasmodic rallies to 97. Fluctuations were very wild on the recovery to par. The flood of offerings prevented the rise above that, but on the reaction to 98 large buying was in evidence again, which rallied it to 99½, where it closed at a net loss of 1¾. In the half hour after mid day transactions in this single stock reached the enormous aggregate of 62,000 shares. There were sharp breaks in Tobacco and Tennessee Coal at the same time with the slump in Sugar, but the general market was not affected.

The market was again unsettled in the late dealings by an attack on Steel Hoop, People's Gas and, Consolidated Gas, driving them down three or four points. New York Central reacted 1½, but otherwise the railroad list was little affected and retained a fair sprinkling of net gains. Third avenue, after having risen to 58½, was forced down to 54 in the late dealings, and Tennessee Coal also yielded to pressure. A quotation of 3½ per cent was made for call money in the course of the late bear raid on stocks. The money market during the day showed no sign of disturbance and there was no evidence of liquidation being forced by the calling of loans. London was not a factor in this market.

The bond market was rather dull and irregular. Total sales par value $1,760,000.

United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

THE POPE AND THE KAISER.

They Exchanged Felicitous Telegrams on the Occasion of the Former's Birthday.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Allegemeine Zeitung published, on the text of a telegram sent by Emperor William to the pope, as follows:

"I beg your holiness to accept my sincere congratulations on the ninetieth anniversary of your birthday. I enter in the most sincere wishes for your health and happiness, and pray that God will pour down all his blessings on your holiness."

To this the pope replied:

"In the congratulations which your majesty was good enough to address to us on the ninetieth anniversary of our birth we see with pleasure fresh testimony of your friendly sentiments which fill your majesty. Accept our thanks as well as the prayers which we, in our turn, offer up for the prosperity of your majesty and all the imperial family."

Thanks For Pope's Long Reign.

ROME, March 6.—A large crowd gathered at St. Peter's to take part in regular thanksgiving on the pope's attaining his 90th birthday. Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, surrounded by 1,000 jubilee pilgrims bearing lighted tapers, officiated. The exterior of the basilica was illuminated.

Soap as a Germ Killer.

It has been shown by Koch and others that soap is a microbicidic, or germ killer, and, according to Professor Serafini, soda or potash soap is quite a good disinfectant, not only because of the alkalis, but the combination itself. Heating the water favors the effect. Resinous soaps are not the best disinfectants. Marseilles soap is very good. A solution of 3 or 4 per cent kills the most resisting microbes.—Washington Times.

HEAVY LOSS OF THE REBELS

In Fighting In Camarines Province, Luzon, 64 were killed—U. S. Officer Died of Wounds.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—General Otis cabled the following account of recent military operations in Luzon:

"MANILA, March 5.—Bates, with two battalions of the Fortieth and Forty-fifth regiments and detachments of artillery, engineers and signal corps, total, 2,200 men, landed troops on the southeast, northwest and southern coasts of San Miguel bay, Camarines province, to move on Nueva Caceres in three columns.

The only strong opposition was encountered by Godwin and the battalion of his regiment at Libmanan, northwest of Nueva Caceres. Godwin's loss was Adjutant Galleher, died of wounds, three enlisted men severely and five slightly wounded. The enemy left 64 dead on the field and many wounded, who were cared for by our medical officers. Godwin captured a number of armed insurgents, 18 Spanish prisoners, 30 rifles and considerable ammunition and property.

Particulars of minor engagements of other column not reported. Nueva Caceres was found practically deserted inhabitants in mountains. Troops are now covering important points in the provinces of Camarines, Albay and Sorsogon. The navy rendered most valuable aid in landing troops and supplies."

CARTER DENOUNCED

QUAY'S OPPONENTS.

Said He Was Victim of Diabolical Plot to Ruin Him Politically and Financially.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Carter, of Montana, made a speech in the senate, principally for the purpose of explaining why he proposes to vote to seat Colonel Quay, which vote will be in direct conflict with the one he delivered against Corbett but a little more than a year ago. The burden of that explanation was that Corbett came here with an appointment by the governor, made necessary by his revolutionary anarchistic action in preventing the organization of the Oregon legislature, which would have elected Senator Mitchell to succeed himself.

Corbett's hands were unclean. He asked the senate to make him the beneficiary of his own unlawful act. Quay, on the other hand, comes here with clean hands, although the courts were invoked in the effort to help in the execution of a conspiracy to destroy him politically and financially.

He said in part:

"There has been a scheme in Pennsylvania for two years to withhold representation of that state in the senate rather than have Mr. Quay in this body. It is pathetic to go over the history of the struggle to destroy this man. He was made the victim of a court in the state of Pennsylvania, and an indictment was found against him on information filed."

Senator Penrose—I would like to remind the senator that the case was deliberately held over until the legislature had adjourned.

Senator Carter—Yes, the dastardly act of resorting to the machinery of the criminal law of the state was consummated to so restrain the legislature from making an election upon the charge that the candidate for the senate would land in the penitentiary. But, Mr. President, the evidence of the prosecution was submitted in the case, and the jury went forth and brought in a verdict of not guilty in an incredibly short period of time. I doubt if the political history of this country has any record of a more deep, dark, damnable, diabolical plot than that.

PREVENTED BILL'S PASSAGE

Bailey Inaugurated a Filibuster in the House, After a Sharp Exchange With the Speaker.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Considerable miscellaneous business was transacted in the house, but much of it was of a minor character. The most important bills passed were one to ratify a treaty with Comanche, Kiowa and Apache Indians and opening their lands for settlement and one authorizing the secretary of the interior to negotiate with the Kiowa and Comanches for a neutral strip in Oklahoma.

During the consideration of a bill to incorporate the Frederick Douglass Memorial and Historical association the speaker and Mr. Bailey, of Texas, exchanged sharp words, with the result that the latter inaugurated a filibuster and ultimately prevented the final passage of the bill by demanding the reading of the engrossed bill. The bill proposes to collect at the residence of the late Frederick Douglass, in this city, a record of the anti-slavery movement. Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, was appointed to the vacancy on the committee on ways and means, which, it was understood, was originally reserved for General Wheeler had he returned to congress.

FREE TRADE ON HOME PRODUCTS

Senator Davis' Proposed Amendment to Porto Rico Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, offered an amendment to the Porto Rico bill in the senate. Its effect is to have the tariff laws of the United States applied to Porto Rico upon foreign imports, but allows absolute free trade between the United States and Porto Rico.

Hay on Good Footing With Boers.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A cablegram received at the state department from Adelbert Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, indicates that he is having no trouble whatever in the full exercise of his functions and is on excellent footing with Boer officials, who give him any information desired as to the condition of the British soldiers, prisoners at Pretoria.

An Insinuation.

"I simply had to do it," said Mr. Erastus Pinkly in an apologetic tone "I had to draw my razzer so's to hol up my character."

"Did he slander you behind your back?"

"No, suh; 'twas to my face. He axed me what business I was in, an I says, 'Raisin chickens.' Den he looked at me solemn an says, 'You doesn't mean "raisin," you means "liftin'.''"—Washington Star.

Peace Loving Woman.

"Did you pay the grocer and butcher Amelia?"

"No; there wasn't enough to pay both of them. To pay only one would make trouble, so I just took the money and spent it down town."—Indianapolis Journal.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours and union labor employed.

All Union papers of East Liverpool are known to the various craft and unions of the city by the printing of the above Union Labels at the head of their columns.

Conductor Killed—Two Probably Fatally Hurt.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 6.—An accident to a passenger train on the East Broad Top railroad, at Martin Meadow, resulted in the death of Conductor George W. Briggs, the probable fatal injury of Mine Superintendent Frank Lyon and Grant Schmitte, and the serious injury of a dozen passengers. The accident was caused by a broken rail, and the derailed cars, containing about 100 passengers, were thrown over an embankment.

Scarcely any one of the travelers escaped without some injury. A lone woman passenger and her little babe were extricated from the debris, the former being severely hurt while the babe escaped without a scratch.

Too Businesslike.
Stella—Why on earth did Miss Peckis reject Mr. Boomer? He's making lots of money in the advertising business.

A Painted Memory.

A lady who lives on Morgan street took her 5-year-old son to a photographer's to have his picture taken. She was anxious to secure a good likeness at this particular sitting because she wished to distribute the pictures among some friends who were then her guests.

The child's idea of the affair, however, did not apparently harmonize with that of his mother, for when the man with the camera began to adjust the lens and direct it toward little Edward that young person set up what was unquestionably a howl.

In vain did the mother call into use her utmost forensic abilities. Edward did not want his picture taken.

"Why, my child," she said soothingly, "the gentleman won't hurt you. Just smile and keep still a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes, I know, mamma," whimpered the youth, with the tears running down his cheeks, "but that's what you told me at the dentist's."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Model of Joy.

"Uncle Ephraim," he said, "if this picture is a success I shall give you, besides the half dollar I promised, the finest and plumpest young pullet in the market."

A grin overspread the shiny face of Uncle Ephraim, but the artist was disappointed. The result was not quite what he had expected.

An inspiration came to his aid.

"Down on South Water street this morning," he went on, "I saw the fat test possum that was ever brought to this town. I am going to get it for you."

"Golly!"

And the picture was a magnificent success.—Chicago Tribune.

President Sent the Philippine Correspondence to Senate.

Aguinaldo's Representative, in the Correspondence Regarding Sick Spanish Prisoners, Protested Against What He Tumed Suspiciousness of Americans.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The president sent to the senate the correspondence called for by a resolution of Senator Hoar, asking for information relative to our course in the Philippines. It is a very voluminous record, containing much that has already been made public and includes instructions by the president, proclamations by the Philippine commission and General Otis' reports of officers in the Philippines, all communications received from Aguinaldo or his associates or proclamations issued by them, information concerning the treatment of prisoners or other inhabitants of the island by the insurgents and also such information as has been received "as to aid or encouragement received by Aguinaldo and his followers from persons in the United States, as to what pamphlets, speeches or other documents emanating in the United States and adverse to its authority and its policy were circulated in whole or in part among the Filipinos in arms against the United States among other inhabitants of the island, or among the soldiers of the United States."

Referring to General Otis' proclamation, the president says:

"No disapproval of the said proclamation was expressed by my authority or that of the war department. It was, in fact, approved by me, although no formal communication to that effect was sent to General Otis."

Included in the correspondence of last October between General MacArthur and Aguinaldo's representative, General Ambrose Flores, in regard to the delivery of sick Spanish prisoners, is a protest against what he terms the "suspiciousness" of the Americans. He says the treatment awarded necessarily corresponds with our political condition, adding that "in the name of soldierly honor I protest against such suspicion, as we have never resorted to indirect means in order to wrest by artifice the recognition of our beloved independence.

In this connection, a cablegram from General Corbin is given, dated Nov. 10, endorsing General Otis' course in the matter of the Spanish prisoners. He says:

"The letters of the insurgents imply a threat. Unless you see strong reasons to the contrary, notify Aguinaldo that he and his advisers will be held personally responsible for any injury done to Spanish or American prisoners in violation of the laws and usages of war among civilized nations."

The instructions to General Merritt are transmitted, but not those to General Otis, which, the report says, were given in cipher. The instructions from the president to General Merritt May 28, 1898, direct the issuance of a proclamation saying that "we came not to make war upon the people of the Philippines, nor upon any party or faction among them, but to protect them in their homes, in their employments and in their personal and religious rights. All persons who either by active aid or by honest admission co-operate with the United States in its efforts to give effect to this beneficent purpose will receive the reward of its support and protection. Our occupation should be as free from severity as possible."

The president's instructions to the Philippine commission of Jan. 20, 1899, are given in full. The president wrote:

"The commission may render valuable services by examining with special care the legislative needs of the various groups of inhabitants and by reporting with recommendations, the measures which should be instituted for the maintenance of order, peace and public welfare."

"It is my desire that in all their relations with the inhabitants of the Philippine islands, the commissioners exercise due respect for all the ideals, customs and institutions of the tribes and races which compose the population, emphasizing upon all occasions the just and beneficent intentions of the government of the United States. It is also my wish and expectation that the commissioners may be received in a manner due to the honored and authorized representatives

The record shows that on the 4th of May, 1899, President Schurman, of the commission, notified Secretary Hay of a cessation of hostilities in order to get a vote from the insurgent congress in favor of autonomy, to which Secretary Hay replied as follows:

"You are authorized to propose that under the military power of the president, pending the action of congress, government of the Philippines shall consist of governor general appointed by the president; a cabinet appointed by the governor general, a general advisory council elected by the people, the qualifications of the electors to be carefully considered and determined and the governor general to have an absolute veto.

RUMORED FEAR OF YAQUIS.

Nothing Known in Washington of Orders to Border Commanders.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said at the war department that no advices have been received here as to the coming of the Yaquis, as is reported from Benson, A. T., and consequently no orders have been issued either from the department or, so far as it is known, from General Merriam, who is now in Washington.

It is further stated that no orders from Washington would be necessary even if the rumor were true, as the military commanders along the border line between the United States and Mexico have standing instructions to head off any Indian bands fleeing from Mexican justice and discipline.

Pension Appropriation Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The senate passed the pension appropriation bill. The measure appropriates $145,245,230.

PREPARE TO RETALIATE.

German Wines Being Examined For Adulteration—Our Attitude on Meat Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said in official circles here that there is nothing for the United States government to do at this stage in the working out of the policy of the German government, respecting the treatment of American meats. Our government has uniformly insisted that no foreign power had any right to censure it respecting pending legislation, and has sharply rebuked foreign ministers in Washington where, in isolated instances, they have disregarded this injunction.

Although the United States is not named in the German meat bill, the measure does directly discriminate against American meat in imposing conditions which are impossible of compliance by American shippers, owing to the long ocean voyage, while easy to meet by the meat shippers in adjoining countries like Belgium, Russia, Austria and Holland. After the year 1904 these countries will be in the same class as the United States, the bill excluding all meats after that date.

The officials here show no open resentment at the recently discovered effort of the German government to prevent our consuls from acquiring any information as to the adulteration of German goods and the existence of disease among German animals, but they are quietly collecting evidence, such for instance as complete analyses of German wines entering the United States which are now being made by the department of agriculture with a special view to the detection of adulteration.

FOR PLAYING "SAPHO."

Olga Nethersole and Others Held For Court—Production of Play Stopped.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Police Magistrate Mott held Olga Nethersole, Hamilton Revelle, Marcus Mayer and Theodore Ross for trial on the charge of presenting an immoral play ("Sapho") at Wallack's theater. Bail was fixed at $800 each, which was given.

The superintendent of police has been notified, and on him rests the responsibility of stopping the production of the play.

The actress finally stopped producing the play, the theatre being closed last night.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The presidential party reached Washington from New York. The return trip was made without special incident.

TRUBLE WITH CECIL RHODES.

Colonel Kekewich and the Diamond Magate Had Differences—He Asked Roberts What to Do With Him—The General Half Bumorous Reply.

LONDON, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force already on the way from Kimberley can raise the siege. This force is described vaguely as "strong." The Kimberley Light Horse is mentioned as a component. In view of the fact that the Kimberley Light Horse is under the control of the De Beers company, Lord Roberts visit to Kimberley probably had to do with an arrangement with Cecil Rhodes to use this company of troops.

Mr. Rhodes and Colonel Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which did not end with the relief of Kimberley. "What shall I do with him?" Colonel Kekewich is said to have wired to Lord Roberts, who half-humorously replied, according to a story circulated at the clubs, "put him in chains."

Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has ceased again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen.

Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch.

Martial law has consequently been declared.

Mr. Chamberlain's request for 2,500 additional Australian bushmen is understood to be explained by the fact that the war office requires this force for the pursuit of irreconcilable Boers, who, according to the intelligence department, have been quietly collecting great quantities of ammunition and stores in the mountain fastnesses of the Zoutpansberg district, in the north of the Transvaal, where they are preparing to carry on guerrilla warfare.

CAPE TOWN, March 6.—Sir Alfred Milner issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, The enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Prieska, Kenehardt, Britstown and Barkley West, and whereas many British subjects have taken up arms, and whereas, it is necessary to repel invasion and suppress rebellion, now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

Witnesses Testified the Negroes Even in Suited Women in Idaho—Lentz's Proposed Queries.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Moses S. Simmons continued his testimony before the house committee on military affairs in the Coeur d'Alene investigation. He testified to the circumstances of his removal from office shortly after the mining demonstration, his arrest and imprisonment in the county jail for five days. A sharp controversy occurred between Chairman Hull and Representative Lentz, who conducted the examination as to whether the witness should state his opinion on the necessity for martial law. On a vote the committee sustained Mr. Hull and excluded this line of inquiry. The witness said he did not have a fair trial on his removal from office.

William Powers testified that he was night watchman and constable at Mullan, Idaho, at the time of the demonstration at Wardner. He disclaimed any knowledge of the blowing up of the mining property. He saw two wagon loads of men returning from Wardner, late in the day, after the explosion. The town was entirely quiet and men went about their work as usual. Then he was arrested and finally landed in the "bull pen."

Powers said the families of imprisoned men suffered until a commissary store was established at Mullan and about $11,000 of charitable contributions from labor organs and the Anti-Trust association was distributed. The military terrorized the people. Women complained that negro soldiers attempted to enter their homes. He knew of no complaints to the commanding officers and there was no investigation. On cross-examination efforts were made to get the names of the men who returned after the blowing up of the mining property. Mr. Lentz protested. The witness said he had furnished them to the sheriff.

He was treated kindly in the "bull pen" and saw no outrages. He and the sheriff intended to arrest the ring leaders of the crowd which blew up the mining property, but his own arrest prevented action on his part.

Mr. Lentz asked that the committee again call on the war department for all telegrams connected with the subject, and particularly the original instructions to General Merriam. This was agreed to.

Mr. Lentz also asked that President McKinley be asked to submit affidavits alleged to have been filed by citizens of Idaho, showing that there was no need of martial law, and that abuses were occurring under the military system. This request went over, Chairman Hull expressing doubt as to the right to call on the president for papers. The committee admitted the plea of Attorney General Hayes, of Idaho, in the habeas corpus proceedings, Mr. Lentz's purpose being shown by it, that the state conceded that the writ of habeas corpus was suspended.

RESCUED BY FIREMEN.

Four Men Carried From a Burning Lodging House, in New Grant Street, Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURG, March 5.—Prompt work by firemen probably saved a number of lives during the progress of a fire in a lodging house at 732½ New Grant street. Four men were carried out of the building unconscious, having been overcome by smoke. The injured are: William Miller, 38 years old, a butler; lived near Homestead.

John Mill, aged 30, a laborer, seriously cut about the hands and burned on the arms.

Dennis Gallagher, 40 years old, laborer. George Greeley, 28 years old, of Homestead.

Burns, a laborer, cut about the hands by falling glass.

Scott Clayton, almost suffocated; address not known.

Miller, Millet and Gallagher were taken to the Homeopathic hospital and were unconscious for two hours. Greeley was taken to the Central police station, and was cared for by Dr. R. L. Taylor. The other men received medical attention near the scene of the fire.

New Senator Sworn In.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Hon. Thos. R. Bard, the recently elected senator from California, was presented to the senate when it convened by his colleague, Mr. Perkins. He was conducted to the desk by Mr. Perkins, where the oath was administered by President Pro Tem. Frye.

TAFT NOT IN ACCORD

Acknowledged He Was Not an Expansionist.

HARMON SPRANG A SENSATION.

The Ex-Attorney General Said the Filipinos Had Trusted This Nation, Knowing Its History—Judge William R. Day Spoke—Yet Taft Upheld McKinley.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The complimentary dinner given at the Queen City club to Judge William H. Taft, the recently appointed president of the Philippine commission, by his friends and neighbors, was unique in its elegance and its good will.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four Railroad company, presided as toastmaster. After reading a letter of regret from Secretary of War Root, who was unable to attend, and after speaking in a happy vein of Judge Taft and his great mission, he introduced Judge William R. Day, late secretary of state, who spoke of the negotiation of the treaty of peace with Spain.

Judge Day was followed with the closest attention. The heartiest applause was given to his assertion that the aim of the United States is not to exploit trade in the Philippines, but to serve the interests of the people of those islands.

Governor George K. Nash followed Judge Day, speaking pleasantly of Judge Taft as a citizen, lawyer and a judge.

Judge Judson Harmon, attorney general under the last Cleveland administration, was the next speaker.

He created a sensation in his opening sentence. "If you had met to approve the general course of the government with the Philippines," Judge Harmon said, "I should not be here. For 100 years we contented ourselves with words of sympathy for peoples struggling as we once struggled, for freedom and independence. Here, for the first time, an opportunity came to help in such a struggle without breaking our settled policy. We joined ranks with the native patriots against the common enemy. Whether any one made or was authorized to make promises to them is of no consequence. Our history and principles are a perpetual promise; and no one will deny that when the Filipinos joined forces with us, they believed, and we know that they believed, success would mean the fulfillment of their hopes."

The silence which marked the opening remarks by Judge Harmon was intense. He produced undisguised surprise when he hinted that one of the best qualifications of Judge Taft for this mission was the fact that he was not an expansionist.

Judge William H. Taft, who followed, said in part:

"The commission is not organized. Its members have never conferred together. I speak, therefore, for myself alone. Like Judge Harmon and unlike Chairman Ingalls, I am not now and never have been an expansionist. I have always hoped that the jurisdiction of our nation would not extend beyond territory between the two oceans. We have not solved all the problems of popular government so perfectly as to justify our voluntarily seeking more difficult ones abroad.

"My conviction is that the calm investigation of the future historian into all the conditions existing at the time of taking each step toward the present situation in the Philippines will lead him to conclude that President McKinley and his administration selected in each crisis the only alternative which a due regard to our national and international obligations would permit."

Judge Taft was frequently interrupted with applause, which was especially vigorous when he announced the charge given by the president to the new commission and when he spoke of the necessity of enforcing civil service in the Philippines. At the close of his address the entire assembly arose and cheered to the echo the distinguished guest of the evening.

The presentation of a handsome silver loving cup to Judge Taft closed the exercises, and the guests departed after singing "America."

The Poet's Choice.

"I don't care for your poem, 'The Song of the Lark,'" remarked the editor. The poet sighed wearily.

"To tell the truth," he replied, "I myself much prefer the lay of the hen."—Philadelphia Record.

Pathetic Death of a Little East End Girl—News of the Suburb.

President J. R. Warner, of the National Pottery company, is authority for the statement that the National pottery will commence operations next Monday.

The clay presses are now being placed in position, and unless present indications fail, arrangements to start the plant will be carried out to the letter. Thus East End will have in operation another industry. For years the flint mill, sewerpipe works and East End pottery were the only industries in that part of the city, but now matters are changed. The Laughlin China company and the National pottery mean much to the suburb, and some public spirited men in East End stand ready and willing to assist any other company which desires to build a factory and locate in that part of the city. The National pottery will employ in the neighborhood of probably 125 persons, and some of these will make their home in the new Fifth ward, intending to move there during the spring and summer.

DEATH RELIEVED HER.

Pathetic Death of a Little Girl Who Has Been an Invalid Since Birth.

There died in East End yesterday afternoon, shortly before three o'clock, a little child who was an invalid since its birth. She was the five year old daughter of Mrs. Duncan, of St. George street, and a niece of David Duncan, who is employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery. The child was blind. Death was caused by a tumor in the brain, near the eye. Several times she was taken to Pittsburgh and other cities where examinations were conducted, but no operation was ever performed. Yesterday afternoon word was sent to Dr. Mowen that the child was ill and those in the house did not think it could live, but before he reached the house, it was dead.

NEW OFFICERS.

Will Be Elected by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Pres. Church.

Tomorrow evening the regular monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church will be held. New officers will be elected to serve for the balance of the year. The society is one of the largest of its kind in the East End, and at present it is in flourishing condition.

Among the Sick.

Willard Lewellen is quite ill at his home on Elm street with typhoid fever.

Benjamin Heckathorn is seriously ill at his home in Helena with pneumonia. He has been in poor health for a long time and his friends are of the opinion his illness will prove fatal.

Mrs. George McKinnon is ill at her home on Railroad street with grip.

Resigned His Position.

Harry Merchant, for sometime engineer at the East End pottery, has resigned his position. The plant is now without an engineer, and until one is secured some inconvenience will result to other parts of the pottery.

Will Give a Dance.

A private dance will be given this evening at the home of Mrs. Fett in Dixonville.

Born.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George Steele.

In the East childlessness is considered a curse from the gods. It is a pathetic sight to see some childless Hindoo mother prostrate before an idol, imploring that the curse of childlessness may be taken away.

Are we much wiser than the heathen? Thousands of childless women are not as they suppose under Nature's ban, but are suffering from a diseased condition of the delicate feminine organs. It may be debilitating drains or female weakness, and perhaps an ulcerated and inflamed condition of the parts. In any case the diseased condition must be removed and a healthy condition established before the maternal function can be fulfilled.

Many a mother acknowledges her debt to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to its inventor Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who invites the sick to write and consult him without charge. "Favorite Prescription" promptly allays irritation, checks ulceration, cures female weakness and the accompanying bearing down pains. It gives vitality and elasticity to the organs peculiar feminine, and establishes the natural conditions which make for the easy birth of healthy children.

There is nothing just as good for you as "Favorite Prescription." Don't be put off with a substitute.

"I have never written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest thirteen pound girls that ever came into a home," writes Mrs. M. Vastine, of 647 South Liberty St., Galesburg. "When I wrote you about my ailments I was living in Richland, Iowa. I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Before I had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I was a new woman. I cannot make pen describe my heartfelt gratitude."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate the stomach, liver and bowels.

The Women's Missionary society of the Second U. P. church will hold a meeting in the church next Thursday afternoon. An interesting program has been prepared.

HON. ISAAC H. TAYLOR

This Eminent Jurist Is a Candidate Before the People For Re-election.

By reference to regular card in another column, it will be noted that Hon. Isaac H. Taylor is a candidate for re-election to the position of common pleas judge. The Republican Standard, of Carrollton, Ohio, speaks of his candidacy in the following terms:

"The first sub-division of the ninth judicial district is composed of the counties of Carroll, Columbiana and Stark. The judges now occupying the bench are Thomas T. McCarty, of Canton; Warren W. Hole, of Salem; Isaac H. Taylor, Carrollton. Thus each of the counties of the district has a judge.

"Here they is, lady," he said.

"Well, just put them down under the berth, please," said she. "The man hesitated a moment.

Punned the Porter.

The pet tail of a certain actress is shoes, and she never travels without a pair of shoe trees in her satchel. One season she was touring the west. When she went to bed in the Pullman on the first night eastward from Butte, she took off her trim walking boots and, as her custom is, slipped the trees into them and set them under the edge of the berth. It was broad daylight when she was awakened by the respectful and somewhat awestricken voice of the porter. She drew the curtains aside and looked out into the aisle. The porter was standing there, holding the shoes in his hand.

"Here they is, lady," he said.

"Well, just put them down under the berth, please," said she. "The man hesitated a moment.

"Can you—can you put them on by youself?" he asked.

"What, the shoes?" asked the lady.

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors In East Liverpool Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

Doan's kidney pills get inside.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

As Seen From a Democratic Standpoint—Potts' Patriot Speaks.

The Lisbon Patriot (Democratic) says: "The Republicans of this congressional district are all stirred up over the coming contest between Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. C. C. Baker, of Alliance, for congressional honors. The primaries in this county take place March 24, and the forces are lining up in the field of action." Baker's friends now claim that he will carry 50 delegates out of the 81 in this county. Tayler's manager, however, disputes this, and claims a solid delegation. It is quite certain that most of the active politicians of the court house ring are against Tayler, and that means much to Baker. The ringers generally have things their own way. The court house is a hotbed of opposition to Tayler, but he claims to be strong with the masses. The soldier element is for Tayler, and that will mean a great many votes to him in the county. Many charges are made against Tayler, among them being these two: First—He is not social with the people. He passes them on the street without recognition. He knows them only when he wants their votes. Second—He has never made an effort to get federal appointments for his constituents in this county. He never tried to exert an influence with the president, but sat still and let others get the plums. He allowed Mr. Laylin to be appointed receiver of the First National, when, if he had even turned his hand over, he could have secured the appointment of George B. Harvey. These are the things urged against him, and they are having a telling effect. It now looks as though Baker would beat Tayler."

We clip the following respecting Hon. C. C. Baker from the ALLIANCE REVIEW of March 3rd:

"At a meeting of John C. Fremont Post, G. A. R., held Friday evening, the following was unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS, The Hon. C. C. Baker, a comrade of John C. Fremont Post No. 729, G. A. R., of Alliance, O., has announced himself a candidate for the congressional nomination in this, the Eighteenth Ohio district, and

WHEREAS, Believing as we do, (all else being equal,) that the old soldiers' interests will be better conserved if committed to the keeping of one whose loyalty to comrades and the flag was welded in the fire of battle, therefore be it

Resolved, That we not only unanimously endorse the candidacy of Comrade Baker, but earnestly appeal to all soldiers in the district to join with us in carrying aloft the banner of one who is a born gentleman, an honest man, who was a brave and gallant soldier, and in business affairs has been a pronounced success.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"A Trip to Chinatown" Tonight.

Hoyt's famous satire, "A Trip to Chinatown," opened at the Duquesne last night to a crowded house. It was constructed for laughing purposes, and it never made an audience laugh more heartily than it did that of last night. There is a wealth of unusual farce-comedy scenery and a number of strikingly pretty girls who help in the general effect. The funny story of the Chinatown expedition which never occurred is retained, but that is all there is of the old farce. Harry Gilfoil is the new Welland Strong. He made a hit last night, and as a companion in the dashing Chicago widow, Miss Mabel Montgomery shared honors with him.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Watch for the grand parade at noon.

JOSEPH BEARDMORE.

ONE vote for clean government is
worth all the resolutions ever passed.

THE British government refuses to license American dentists. Haven't got enough pull, perhaps.

REPUBLICANS and Democrats alike are
wondering how such a man as Joseph
Sibley could ever have been a Democrat.

AS USUAL, the Democratic national convention will be held after the Republican. If it met before it wouldn't know what it was to declare against.

SUPPOSING Bryan was elected next
fall—just supposing, you know there's absolutely no chance whatever of his
really being elected—but supposing he was, what do you suppose he would do
with the Philippines?

ODD, ISN'T IT?

The Democrats claim that present
prosperity just happened, that the Republican party had nothing to do with it.
Strange that it was never known to happen during a Democratic administration.

POINTER FOR FILIPINOS.

The 9,000 American soldiers in Cuba
will soon be reduced to 5,000, the restoration of order in the island permitting the withdrawal of the others. The deluded Filipino ought to make a note
and settle down.

The Cleveland Leader, treating the

Clark local option bill as a matter of practical politics and vote-getting, says
there can be no question of the passage
of the bill. The total saloon vote of Ohio, according to the Leader's figures,
is 30,000. The anti-saloon league has a voting power of 100,000, while the church element is estimated at 250,000.

TRULY JEFFERSONIAN.

Mr. Bryan will please observe that it is proposed to give the Filipinos true
Jeffersonian government. The plan
recommended by the Philippine commis-
Jefferson for the government of the Louisiana purchase.

SYMPATHY THAT COST.

After the Democratic members of the state legislature had worked several days getting names to a telegram of sympathy to the Boers, they found it would cost $2,700 to cable the message.
As their sympathy did not go quite that far the cable was not sent. But it beautifully illustrated the Democratic habit of jumping in without counting
the cost.

THE "WHIPPING POST."

As a rule, any humane man or woman will condemn the "whipping post"
as a mode of punishment and term it
an uncivilized mode or method of punishment; but, if ever a miserable coward, unworthy of the name of man, deserved a full dose at the whipping post,
the WIFE BEATER is that delectable individual.

IMPORTANCE RECOGNIZED.

The importance of electing good and capable councilmen is apparently becoming better recognized every year.
The Republican primaries in the various cities of this state this spring show a larger proportion of councilmen pledged
to reform nominated than at any primaries on record. No municipal office
is of more vital importance to the well-being of the community. None can make or mar a city, improve or disgrace
a municipality, more than council, according to whether the men in that body
be honest and capable or dishonest and incapable.

REPUBLICAN PAPERS.

Republicans should patronize Republican papers, and Democrats follow the same rule with Democratic papers. This is the general rule all over the land.
Don't warm a serpent at your fireplace
or hearthstone, as the vicious creature
may be revivified and send deadly poison
into your veins. As for the cormorant
or bloodsucker, which is no man's friend, and cares only for his shekels,
not daring to fling any flag to the
tirely, as some of the late contestants
for municipal office wish they had done,
especially some of the winners.

ASSESSMENTS

ARE ABOLISHED

Held For a Long Time—Dr. Williams
Brought Up the Piano and Picture Levies
and Had Them Stopped.

At the meeting of the board of education last evening Dr. J. C. Taggart was the only member absent. He missed one
of the most interesting meetings of the board held during this term of school.
The session, while not lengthy, will mark a new era in the government of the schools inasmuch as the assessment
idea was forever abolished.

Janitor John M. Orr, of the Grant street school, asked for an increase in his salary from $25 to $40 a month. He has a number of extra rooms to take care
of and the board gave him an increase,
dating from January 1. He is now receiving the same salary as the janitor of
the Sixth street building.

James Whetton, janitor of the East End school, wanted $5 for cleaning the small school building on Pennsylvania
avenue last summer, but action was deferred until the next meeting.

The following bills were ordered
paid: Ohio Valley Gas company, $267.15;
Fort Pitt Gas company, $7 80;
Telephone company, $24.75; H. W.
Corns, $40; typewriter cabinet, $53.80;
Diamond Hardware company, 55 cents;
Thomas Wolf, $3.15; Bowen, Merrill &
Co., $96; Eagle Hardware company,
$137.36; Robert Moore, $38.62; R. E.
Rayman, expenses to Chicago, $30.20.
Total, $473.88.

L. C. Williams rose to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the renting
of a piano for Miss Austin's room in the Central building. He understood the scholars some time ago voted to rent a piano for that room. The piano was rented, and the scholars were assessed a fixed sum each month, 40 cents, to pay the rent.

He had heard that some of the scholars had been kept in after hours
for failing to bring the assessment. In one instance a child was kept in six times because she did not bring the
child was told to go home and not return until she brought the 40 cents with her. Mr. Williams said he went to see
the parents, and was told that the father
wrote a note to the teacher about the matter. The father told Mr. Williams
that it was not the 40 cents but the principle involved that he objected to.

Mr. Williams' remarks caused a sensation. There was a dead silence for a few moments and then Dr. W. T. Norris arose. He said: "I think it would be a good idea to make a rule to stop this
pay for such articles if needed."

Mr. Williams continued by saying that they were now making a collection
at the Sixth street school to buy pictures
to place on the walls.

Geo. C. Murphy failed to see anything wrong in that. The scholars were doing this among themselves and the board
had nothing to do with it.

President O. C. Vodrey asked Mr.
Williams if the complaints about this assessment had been brought before the board by the proper channel.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman said
they had not.

President Vodrey said: "The superintendent is in touch with the teachers,
scholars and parents, and parents feel ing they have a complaint to make
should go to the superintendent."

Doctor Norris: "We had better stop
all collections. We purchase readers for the scholars, and why not purchase
other things that are needed in the schools. A child may vote to have a piano placed in the room, but the parents may not have the money to pay the assessment."

Superintendent Rayman said that in all cases where complaints were made,
after both sides were heard, settlements were usually reached easily. The first complaint had yet to be brought to the board for final settlement. They had always been adjusted by the school authorities without having to appeal to the board.

Dr. Williams moved and Dr. Norris
seconded a motion that the assessment
plan be prohibited.

Dr. Williams said in some cases he had been told the names of scholars who had failed to bring their assessment had been posted on the blackboard.

Mr. Rayman said he had not heard of that.

W. B. Hill suggested that the whole matter be investigated before a vote was taken on the motion abolishing assessments.

Mr. Murphy objected, saying that if scholars wanted pictures on the walls of their room they had a perfect right to buy them.

Mr. Hill rose to a point of order, and read from the school rules the following:

"No collection shall be taken up in any of the schools, by the teachers or anyone else, for any purpose whatever;" and
aggrieved shall apply to the superintendent for redress, but in no case shall they seek satisfaction from teachers at their rooms. In case dissatisfaction arises
with the decision of the superintendent
it may be taken to the committee on
discipline, and if dissatisfaction arises
again an appeal may be taken to the board."

President Vodrey sustained Mr. Hill.

Mr. Williams: "Does this mean,
then, that from now on there shall be
no assessment of any kind?"

"It certainly does," said Mr. Hill.

The board then abolished the assessment of $1 on every scholar upon their entry to the high school. This money
is used to purchase books for the high school library, but hereafter these books
will be purchased by the board.

The discussion was then ended, and
the board instructed the superintendent
to extend its sympathy to the family of Mrs. Edwin Roberts, the janitress of the Gardendale school, who died Sunday morning.

Superintendent Rayman, when seen
this morning, said he had notified the
teachers to at once prohibit the collection of further assessments in the schools for any purpose. He says he has personally
investigated the charges that children
had been sent home for failing to bring assessments and the names of delinquents posted upon the blackboard. The teachers told him that there hadn't
been a single case of either kind; no
children had been sent home and no
names had been posted for failure to pay
assessments.

Mr. Williams continued by saying that they were now making a collection
at the Sixth street school to buy pictures
to place on the walls.

Geo. C. Murphy failed to see anything wrong in that. The scholars were doing this among themselves and the board
had nothing to do with it.

President O. C. Vodrey asked Mr.
Williams if the complaints about this assessment had been brought before the board by the proper channel.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman said
they had not.

Accepted Those of Barnum, of Cleveland—Church to Cost
$15,000 and Seat 600.

The congregation of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church met last evening and
decided what kind of a building they would erect to take the place of the church destroyed by fire some weeks
ago. There were three sets of plans examined by the vestry, which met in
the rectory, and the plans submitted by Barnum & Hall, of Cleveland, were looked upon with favor by the vestry-
men. All plans were then presented to the congregation, after which they decided to use the plans from the Cleveland architects. The new church will
a seating capacity of 600.

A Forgotten Countersign.

"War with raw recruits in the beginning is apt to lead to many amusing
experiences," said the old army officer
who saw service in Cuba. "Now, you couldn't ask for better soldiers than we had in Cuba, but a large number of them were new to the business and had much to learn, and much to their credit, it can be said that they soon learned
it."

"I had occasion to leave our lines one night soon after we arrived in Cuba,
and upon my return it suddenly struck
me that I had forgotten the countersign. I puzzled over it for some time, but for the life of me I couldn't recall
the word that had been given out.
While I was thinking it over I heard
the command:

"Halt! Who comes there?"

"Friend," I answered, thinking that the countersign would come to me in a moment.

"Advance, friend, and give the coun-tersign," said the sentry.

"As the countersign had slipped from me completely I walked up to him and said sharply:

"Call the corporal of the guard!"

"Gosh," answered the sentry, "I knew it was something like that, but I'm darned if I hadn't forgotten it!
Mosey on!"

"I moseyed," but I took the trouble to look up the corporal of the guard and
have him give the sentry further instructions regarding the duties of a sentry."—Detroit Free Press.

Charlie Quayle Bitten by a Dog
Bitten by a Mad Dog, Yet No Sign of Hydrophobia.

KENSINGTON, March 6.—(Special)—David Quayle, a carpenter on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road, moved from Wellsville to Kensington in October and in moving took with him a pet dog. Soon after the dog was bitten by another, supposed to have been mad. Quayle's dog showed no signs of madness, however, and, it was thought, had passed all danger. About nine weeks ago Quayle's ten-year-old boy Charlie was lying on the floor with one arm thrown over his head, when the dog suddenly sprang upon him and bit him in the cheek, knocking out a tooth. The dog was at once killed. Although it was feared the boy would have hydrophobia, no sign of it was apparent. Last Thursday the boy took sick. Anything white in the room where he lay threw him into convulsions. Sunday evening he died. He was conscious up to the last and passed away painlessly. His funeral was held from the Wellsville Methodist Protestant church today. The case is regarded as a remarkable one.

DRUNKEN WOMEN.

They Staggered Along Our Public Streets Yesterday Evening.

It was a most disgusting sight as the females staggered along our public thoroughfares, one of the number upheld by a male companion, while little children, boys and girls, gazed and wondered and made comment. There were two men and two women in the party, and common decency should have required that they be assisted into the Black Maria and conveyed to the cooler. Speed the day when no such disgusting and shameful sights shall be witnessed in this pottery center.

A Run Away Horse Made Very Fast Time Down Avondale Street Sunday Night.

There was quite an exciting run off on Avondale street Sunday night. A man named Buchelt and a young lady named McCurran were out buggy riding when the horse became gay. The animal started at the top of the street and went down hill at the rate of a mile a minute, the driver being powerless to check its mad flight. When the bottom of the hill was reached the horse jumped clear across the sidewalk and landed the buggy in a hole, while the occupants of the vehicle were precipitated into space but sustained no injuries when they alighted on terra firma. The buggy was badly wrecked.

At a Disadvantage.

A North Columbus woman has a charming little daughter who is very indiscreet. The other day in the midst of a reception the little girl cried on account of the toothache. Her mother tried to console her.

"There, my darling, don't cry. Your toothache will pass away."

"How will it go away?" replied little Edith, her voice broken with sobs. "I can't take my teeth out like you can, mamma."—Ohio State Journal.

KELL ESCAPED.

And He Was Wanted to Answer to a Charge of Non-Support, but He Took Leave.

Yesterday a warrant was made out for the arrest of Charles Kell upon a charge of non-support. Kell was arrested a short time ago and the case was settled, but Kell refused to live up to the agreement and Constable Miller went after him. He found that Kell was working at the pottery of R. Thomas & Sons, but when Miller arrived there with the warrant Kell went out another door. He was pursued by the constable to his home, but again escaped and last night Miller went to Yellow Creek in the hope of securing his man, but failed to get a sight of him. It is thought he went to Steubenville, and Miller says he will get him in the end.

Future Punishment.

I do not believe the punishment will be any greater in the next world for what we do and perhaps not so great as for that which we do not do. A poor, unfortunate being, born of depraved parents, knowing nothing but sin of the worst kind, surely is not as responsible for his condition as one born of good parents amid Christian surroundings. If we sit with our hands folded, puffed up with silly pride, afraid of the opinion of society, afraid to lend a helping hand, afraid to love them and afraid of their love, surely God is more displeased with us, with our foolish pride, than He is with them in their sin and ignorance.—Martina R. THE OCEAN PEDDLER.

Methods of Trading Vessels That Go to Many Out of the Way Corners of the World—How the Captain Disposes of His Cargo.

The man with a pack on his back, trudging from village to village and offering for sale at cottage and farmhouse a miscellaneous collection of wares, has his counterpart in the ocean peddler, ranging in size from a schooner trading among the islands of the Pacific to a steamer of 1,000 to 2,000 tons burden.

The ocean peddler starts out from Hamburg or San Francisco, the chief home ports of the trade, with a definite object in view. Sailing from the former city the course is generally laid either to the coast of Africa or South America, having in the hold a varied assortment of goods likely to be marketable in the regions visited—cotton fabrics, trinkets, arms, ammunition, liquors and all spare room filled up with coal.

As the largest profits are often derived from the sale of contraband goods, such as munitions of war to insurgent bodies, and as detection by regular authorities would lead to confiscation, several thousand rounds of cartridges are probably done up in innocent looking cases stamped "Canned Beef" and a few stands of discarded German army rifles in packages labeled "Glass, With Care."

The captain of such a vessel must possess not only ability as a navigator, but an expert knowledge of the requirements of his trade in addition to a plausible tongue wherewith to barter and win over the good will of an ill disposed official. If he does not own an interest in the ship, it is generally required that he shall in her cargo.

Trudging along over the ocean at a seven or eight knot gait, saving his coal as much as possible, the peddler opens his trade by casting anchor in, say, a South or Central American port, when, having squared the commandant, he invites merchants and others on board to inspect his stock. Duty, of course, has to be paid by the purveyor, but in certain cases that difficulty is often overcome by the visitor to the ship going ashore swollen out perhaps to three times his normal size by as many new suits of clothing.

The greatest good fortune that can fall in the way of an ocean peddler is for an American or British man-of-war to put into some out of the way port in which he is lying, short of coal. Then from his spare stock he sells a few hundred tons at as hard a bargain as the necessity of the purchaser permits him to drive.

On the Central American coast the peddler usually times his visit at about the opening of the coffee season—that is, early in the new year—so that when he has sold out his wares he is able to load up, almost to the water line, with the principal export of the country.

That the ocean peddling trade is not without its dangers is illustrated by a story told by a mate of one of those vessels. In order to preserve his respectable character the contraband goods are sometimes stored in places likely to escape the vigilant eye of the customs officer, and in the case in question the mate's bunk was chosen as the safest repository for certain packages of dynamite consigned to the leaders of a Nicaraguan revolution.

All went well until the night before the ship was due to arrive at her destination, when a thunderstorm occurred, the lightning playing about the masts in an alarming manner. The mate confessed that the idea of turning in upon a bed of dynamite under such circumstances was not conducive to peaceful repose even to one accustomed to sleep through all manner of dangers, but with the reflection that if a flash found its way to his bunk he would not be likely to be made aware of the fact he slumbered serenely through his watch below and next day delivered the "canned tomatoes" safely to the consignee.

The ocean peddling trade on the Pacific has been shorn of much of its profit since the interisland passenger traffic in natives, who too often were carried as passengers, much against their will, to dive for pearls on the great Australian bank, has been effectually suppressed. Still a considerable trade is carried on in small articles of hardware, old clothes, personal trinkets and an occasional case of "dry goods," which, if seized, would turn out to be remarkably wet.—New York Sun.

Old German Wash Lists.

The old German housewife had a strange way of keeping track of the clothes she gave out to be washed. It was nothing less than a pictorial and perpetual wash list. There was no possibility of making such an error as to mistake the abbreviation Sh. for shirts or St. for stockings. She had pictures of each article and simply wrote down the number of each thing opposite its picture with a piece of chalk, which was erased when the thing was returned and used again on the following week.—Cleveland Leader.

The Truthful Prince.

In his book about Persia, "The Land of the Lion and the Sun," Dr. Wills says that he was once conversing with the king's son, and a large circle of courtiers and priests filled the room. The prince narrated his exploits in hunting the antelope the previous day and gravely stated that while pursuing a pair of antelope when riding a very restive horse his headstall broke.

"What should you have done, doctor?" asked the prince.

"I should have tried to stick on as long as the ground was good and, expecting an accident, have waited it."

"Ah, that was because you were not a prince," he said. "I leaned forward, and, unclasping my belt, placed it in the horse's mouth as a bridle, and, thus directing him, pursued my game and killed both antelope."

All the circle applauded, as of course they were bound to do. Dr. Wills was silent.

"You don't mean to say you don't believe that?" said the prince. "Speak out if you don't. I shan't be offended in the least."

"Well, your highness, I don't believe it."

"Quite right, daragh bood" (it was a title), unblushingly replied his royal highness and burst into a fit of laughter quite unabashed. The circle of courtiers, of course, were convulsed.

She Smoked.

A patient of one of the leading specialists who treat polypi in the nose and throat is a woman well known for her work in Sunday schools in this city. She has a record as the organizer of a number of antigarette leagues among the schoolboys. She came to her doctor the other day. He cheered her greatly by telling her he could cure her quickly and without the use of the knife.

"But you must promise to follow my directions," said the doctor, with the suspicion of a twinkle in his eye.

"Oh, I promise," said the lady.

"Without qualification?" asked the physician.

"Absolutely without qualification," answered the lady.

The lady gasped. Visions of what might happen if she were seen with a cigarette between her teeth by any of her pupils floated before her, and she almost fainted. But the doctor was inexorable. The lady followed his directions, and in a week the foreign growth in her nose had disappeared. But that doesn't mean that the lady is now a confirmed cigarette smoker.—United States Tobacco Journal.

How She Knew.

Speaking of kindergartens for colored children calls to mind the experience of a "befo de war" matron who was teaching one of the little darkies on her plantation how to spell.

The primer she used was a pictorial one, and over each word was its accompanying picture, and Polly glibly spelled o-x. ox, and b-o-x. box, etc. But the teacher thought that she was making rapid progress, so she put her hand over the picture and said:

"Polly, what does o-x spell?"

"Ox," answered Polly nimbly.

"How do you know that it spells ox, Polly?"

"Seed his tail," replied the apt Polly—Memphis Selimtar.

Satisfied Her.

Prospective Bride—I know it's foolish, doctor, but to gratify a natural curiosity will you please let me see the form of service you intend to use in marrying us?

The Rev. Dr. Fourthly—It will not be necessary, my dear young woman. I never use the word "obey" in the marriage service.—Chicago Tribune.

Other Features.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Attention in the stock market continued to be largely diverted to the feverish and excited fluctuations of a small number of stocks. Manipulation by the bears was largely responsible for the changes. In the case of sugar, the operations of the professional traders were interrupted by the unexpected action of the directors in declaring a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock.

The stock opened under pressure, but, after falling nearly 2 points, encountered very vigorous support and was rallied to 103½ by noon. A 2,000-share lot was taken at that price when the news became known of the dividend action. Enormous selling for both accounts immediately followed, and the prices slumped by wide breaks, with occasional spasmodic rallies to 97. Fluctuations were very wild on the recovery to par. The flood of offerings prevented the rise above that, but on the reaction to 98 large buying was in evidence again, which rallied it to 99½, where it closed at a net loss of 1½. In the half hour after mid day transactions in this single stock reached the enormous aggregate of 62,000 shares. There were sharp breaks in Tobacco and Tennessee Coal at the same time with the slump in Sugar, but the general market was not affected.

The market was again unsettled in the late dealings by an attack on Steel Hoop, People's Gas and, Consolidated Gas, driving them down three or four points. New York Central reacted 1½, but otherwise the railroad list was little affected and retained a fair sprinkling of net gains. Third avenue, after having risen to 58½, was forced down to 54 in the late dealings, and Tennessee Coal also yielded to pressure. A quotation of 3½ per cent was made for call money in the course of the late bear raid on stocks. The money market during the day showed no sign of disturbance and there was no evidence of liquidation being forced by the calling of loans. London was not a factor in this market.

The bond market was rather dull and irregular. Total sales par value $1,760,000.

United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

They Exchanged Felicitous Telegrams on the Occasion of the Former's Birthday.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Allegemeine Zeitung published, on the text of a telegram sent by Emperor William to the pope, as follows:

"I beg your holiness to accept my sincere congratulations on the ninetieth anniversary of your birthday. I enter in the most sincere wishes for your health and happiness, and pray that God will pour down all his blessings on your holiness."

To this the pope replied:

"In the congratulations which your majesty was good enough to address to us on the ninetieth anniversary of our birth we see with pleasure fresh testimony of your friendly sentiments which fill your majesty. Accept our thanks as well as the prayers which we, in our turn, offer up for the prosperity of your majesty and all the imperial family."

SIG PUGS MATCHED.

Fitzsimmons Will Fight Sharkey the First Week in August.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Tom Sharkey and Bob Fitzsimmons signed articles of agreement for a 25-round bout before the club offering the largest purse, during the first week of August, winner to take all the purse. Marquis of Queensberry rules will govern. The men and the club are each to put up a forfeit of $5,000.

Bids for the fight will be opened at 8 p. m., March 19, by Al Smith.

Thanks for Pope's Long Reign.

ROME, March 6.—A large crowd gathered at St. Peter's to take part in regular thanksgiving on the pope's attaining his 90th birthday. Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, surrounded by 1,000 jubilee pilgrims bearing lighted tapers, officiated. The exterior of the basilica was illuminated.

Soup as a Germ Killer.

It has been shown by Koch and others that soup is a microbicid, or germ killer, and, according to Professor Serafini, soda or potash soup is quite a good disinfectant, not only because of the alkalis, but the combination itself.

Heating the water favors the effect. Resinous soaps are not the best disinfectants. Marseilles soap is very good. A solution of 3 or 4 per cent kills the most resisting microbes.—Washington Times.

HEAVY LOSS OF THE REBELS

In Fighting In Camarines Province, Luzon, 64 were Killed—U. S. Officer Died of Wounds.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—General Otis cabled the following account of recent military operations in Luzon:

"MANILA, March 5.—Bates, with two battalions of the Fortieth and Forty-fifth regiments and detachments of artillery, engineers and signal corps, total, 2,300 men, landed troops on the southeast, northwest and southern coasts of San Miguel bay, Camarines province, to move on Nueva Caceres in three columns.

The only strong opposition was encountered by Godwin and the battalion of his regiment at Libmanan, northwest of Nueva Caceres. Godwin's loss was Adjutant Galleher, died of wounds, three enlisted men severely and five slightly wounded. The enemy left 64 dead on the field and many wounded, who were cared for by our medical officers. Godwin captured a number of armed insurgents, 18 Spanish prisoners, 30 rifles and considerable ammunition and property.

"Particulars of minor engagements of other column not reported. Nueva Caceres was found practically deserted inhabitants in mountains. Troops are now covering important points in the provinces of Camarines, Albay and Sorsogon. The navy rendered most valuable aid in landing troops and supplies."

CARTER DENOUNCED QUAY'S OPPONENTS.

Said He Was Victim of Diabolical Plot to Ruin Him Politically and Financially.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Carter, of Montana, made a speech in the senate, principally for the purpose of explaining why he proposes to vote to seat Colonel Quay, which vote will be in direct conflict with the one he delivered against Corbett but a little more than a year ago. The burden of that explanation was that Corbett came here with an appointment by the governor, made necessary by his revolutionary anarchistic action in preventing the organization of the Oregon legislature, which would have elected Senator Mitchell to succeed himself.

Corbett's hands were unclean. He asked the senate to make him the beneficiary of his own unlawful act. Quay, on the other hand, comes here with clean hands, although the courts were invoked in the effort to help in the execution of a conspiracy to destroy him politically and financially.

He said in part:

"There has been a scheme in Pennsylvania for two years to withhold representation of that state in the senate rather than have Mr. Quay in this body. It is pathetic to go over the history of the struggle to destroy this man. He was made the victim of a court in the state of Pennsylvania, and an indictment was found against him on information filed."

Senator Penrose—I would like to remind the senator that the case was deliberately held over until the legislature had adjourned.

Senator Carter—Yes, the dastardly act of resorting to the machinery of the criminal law of the state was consummated to so restrain the legislature from making an election upon the charge that the candidate for the senate would land in the penitentiary. But, Mr. President, the evidence of the prosecution was submitted in the case, and the jury went forth and brought in a verdict of not guilty in an incredibly short period of time. I doubt if the political history of this country has any record of a more deep, dark, damnable, diabolical plot than that.

Bailey Inaugurated a Filibuster in the House, After a Sharp Exchange With the Speaker.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Considerable miscellaneous business was transacted in the house, but much of it was of a minor character. The most important bills passed were one to ratify a treaty with Comanche, Kiowa and Apache Indians and opening their lands for settlement and one authorizing the secretary of the interior to negotiate with the Kiowa and Comanches for a neutral strip in Oklahoma.

During the consideration of a bill to incorporate the Frederick Douglass Memorial and Historical association the speaker and Mr. Bailey, of Texas, exchanged sharp words, with the result that the latter inaugurated a filibuster and ultimately prevented the final passage of the bill by demanding the reading of the engrossed bill. The bill proposes to collect at the residence of the late Frederick Douglass, in this city, a record of the anti-slavery movement. Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, was appointed to the vacancy on the committee on ways and means, which, it was understood, was originally reserved for General Wheeler had he returned to congress.

Senator Davis' Proposed Amendment to Porto Rican Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, offered an amendment to the Porto Rican bill in the senate. Its effect is to have the tariff laws of the United States applied to Porto Rico upon foreign imports, but allows absolute free trade between the United States and Porto Rico.

HAY ON GOOD FOOTING WITH BOERS.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A cablegram received at the state department from Adelbert Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, indicates that he is having no trouble whatever in the full exercise of his functions and is on excellent footing with Boer officials, who give him any information desired as to the condition of the British soldiers, prisoners at Pretoria.

AN INSINUATION.

"I simply had to do it," said Mr. Erastus Pinkly in an apologetic tone. "I had to draw my razzer so's to hold up my character."

"Did he slander you behind your back?"

"No, suh; 'twas to my face. He axed me what business I was in, an I says, 'Raisin chickens.' Den he looked at me solemn an says, 'You doesn't mean "raisin," you means "liftin'.''"—Washington Star.

PEACE LOVING WOMAN.

"Did you pay the grocer and butcher Amelia?"

"No; there wasn't enough to pay both of them. To pay only one would make trouble, so I just took the money and spent it down town."—Indianapolis Journal.

UNION LABELS

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION PAPERS.

Train Derailed on Broad Top Railroad.
Conductor Killed—Two Probably Fatally Hurt.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 6.—An accident to a passenger train on the East Broad Top railroad, at Martin Meadow, resulted in the death of Conductor George W. Briggs, the probable fatal injury of Mine Superintendent Frank Lyon and Grant Schmitte, and the serious injury of a dozen passengers. The accident was caused by a broken rail, and the derailed cars, containing about 100 passengers, were thrown over an embankment.

Scarcely any one of the travelers escaped without some injury. A lone woman passenger and her little babe were extricated from the debris, the former being severely hurt while the babe escaped without a scratch.

Inschob was sentenced to one year in the county prison.

In the central police court Magistrate Jermon held Bernard Kline, a street peddler, in $600 bail for trial on the charge of selling copies of Daudet's book "Sapho," which the magistrate held to be an obscene publication."

Too Businesslike.
Stella—Why on earth did Miss Peckis reject Mr. Boomer? He's making lots of money in the advertising business.

Bella—Yes, and he proposed to her by mail in this fashion: "I can place in a few good papers of guaranteed circulation at a minimum cost the following notice (pure reading, top column): 'Engaged—Miss Birdie Peckis to Mr. Howlett Boomer.' If this proposition meets your approval, kindly sign and return by first mail." —Philadelphia Press.

A Painful Memory.

A lady who lives on Morgan street took her 5-year-old son to a photographer's to have his picture taken. She was anxious to secure a good like ness at this particular sitting because she wished to distribute the pictures among some friends who were then her guests.

The child's idea of the affair, however, did not apparently harmonize with that of his mother, for when the man with the camera began to adjust the lens and direct it toward little Edward that young person set up what was unquestionably a howl.

In vain did the mother call into use her utmost forensic abilities. Edward did not want his picture taken.

"Why, my child," she said soothingly, "the gentleman won't hurt you. Just smile and keep still a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes, I know, mamma," whimpered the youth, with the tears running down his cheeks, "but that's what you told me at the dentist's." —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Model of Joy.

"Uncle Ephraim," he said, "if this picture is a success I shall give you, besides the half dollar I promised, the finest and plumpest young pullet in the market."

A grin overspread the shiny face of Uncle Ephraim, but the artist was disappointed. The result was not quite what he had expected.

An inspiration came to his aid.

"Down on South Water street this morning," he went on, "I saw the fat test possum that was ever brought to this town. I am going to get it for you."

"Golly!"

And the picture was a magnificent success.—Chicago Tribune.

President Sent the Philippine Correspondence to Senate.

Aguinaldo's Representative, in the Correspondence Regarding Sick Spanish Prisoners, Protested Against What He Termed Suspiciousness of Americans.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The president sent to the senate the correspondence called for by a resolution of Senator Hoar, asking for information relative to our course in the Philippines. It is a very voluminous record, containing much that has already been made public and includes instructions by the president, proclamations by the Philippine commission and General Otis' reports of officers in the Philippines, all communications received from Aguinaldo or his associates or proclamations issued by them, information concerning the treatment of prisoners or other inhabitants of the island by the insurgents and also such information as has been received "as to aid or encouragement received by Aguinaldo and his followers from persons in the United States, as to what pamphlets, speeches or other documents emanating in the United States and adverse to its authority and its policy were circulated in whole or in part among the Filipinos in arms against the United States among other inhabitants of the island, or among the soldiers of the United States."

Referring to General Otis' proclamation, the president says:

"No disapproval of the said proclamation was expressed by my authority or that of the war department. It was, in fact, approved by me, although no formal communication to that effect was sent to General Otis."

Included in the correspondence of last October between General MacArthur and Aguinaldo's representative, General Ambrose Flores, in regard to the delivery of sick Spanish prisoners, is a protest against what he terms the "suspiciousness" of the Americans. He says the treatment awarded necessarily corresponds with our political condition," adding that "in the name of soldierly honor I protest against such suspicion, as we have never resorted to indirect means in order to wrest by artifice the recognition of our beloved independence.

In this connection, a cablegram from General Corbin is given, dated Nov. 10, endorsing General Otis' course in the matter of the Spanish prisoners. He says:

"The letters of the insurgents imply a threat. Unless you see strong reasons to the contrary, notify Aguinaldo that he and his advisers will be held personally responsible for any injury done to Spanish or American prisoners in violation of the laws and usages of war among civilized nations."

The instructions to General Merritt are transmitted, but not those to General Otis, which, the report says, were given in cipher. The instructions from the president to General Merritt May 28, 1898, direct the issuance of a proclamation saying that "we came not to make war upon the people of the Philippines, nor upon any party or faction among them, but to protect them in their homes, in their employments and in their personal and religious rights. All persons who either by active aid or by honest admission co-operate with the United States in its efforts to give effect to this beneficent purpose will receive the reward of its support and protection. Our occupation should be as free from severity as possible."

The president's instructions to the Philippine commission of Jan. 20, 1899, are given in full. The president wrote:

"The commission may render valuable services by examining with special care the legislative needs of the various groups of inhabitants and by reporting with recommendations, the measures which should be instituted for the maintenance of order, peace and public welfare."

"It is my desire that in all their relations with the inhabitants of the Philippine islands, the commissioners exercise due respect for all the ideals, customs and institutions of the tribes and races which compose the population, emphasizing upon all occasions the just and beneficial intentions of the government of the United States. It is also my wish and expectation that the commissioners may be received in a manner due to the honored and authorized representatives."

of the American republic duly commissioned on account of their knowledge, skill and integrity as bearers of the good will, the protection and the richest blessings of a liberating rather than a conquering nation."

The record shows that on the 4th of May, 1899, President Schurman, of the commission, notified Secretary Hay of a cessation of hostilities in order to get a vote from the insurgent congress in favor of autonomy, to which Secretary Hay replied as follows:

"You are authorized to propose that under the military power of the president, pending the action of congress, government of the Philippines shall consist of governor general appointed by the president; a cabinet appointed by the governor general, a general advisory council elected by the people, the qualifications of the electors to be carefully considered and determined and the governor general to have an absolute veto.

RUMORED FEAR OF YAQUIS.

Nothing Known in Washington of Orders to Border Commanders.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said at the war department that no advices have been received here as to the coming of the Yaquis, as is reported from Benson, A. T., and consequently no orders have been issued either from the department or, so far as it is known, from General Merriam, who is now in Washington.

It is further stated that no orders from Washington would be necessary even if the rumor were true, as the military commanders along the border line between the United States and Mexico have standing instructions to head off any Indian bands fleeing from Mexican justice and discipline.

Pension Appropriation Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The senate passed the pension appropriation bill. The measure appropriates $145,245,230.

PREPARE TO RETALIATE.

German Wines Being Examined For Adulteration—Our Attitude on Meat Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—It is said in official circles here that there is nothing for the United States government to do at this stage in the working out of the policy of the German government, respecting the treatment of American meats. Our government has uniformly insisted that no foreign power had any right to catechise it respecting pending legislation, and has sharply rebuked foreign ministers in Washington where, in isolated instances, they have disregarded this injunction.

Although the United States is not named in the German meat bill, the measure does directly discriminate against American meat in imposing conditions which are impossible of compliance by American shippers, owing to the long ocean voyage, while easy to meet by the meat shippers in adjoining countries like Belgium, Russia, Austria and Holland. After the year 1904 these countries will be in the same class as the United States, the bill excluding all meats after that date.

The officials here show no open resentment at the recently discovered effort of the German government to prevent our consuls from acquiring any information as to the adulteration of German goods and the existence of disease among German animals, but they are quietly collecting evidence, such for instance as complete analyses of German wines entering the United States which are now being made by the department of agriculture with a special view to the detection of adulteration.

FOR PLAYING "SAPHO."

Olga Nethersole and Others Held For Court—Production of Play Stopped.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Police Magistrate Mott held Olga Nethersole, Hamilton Revelle, Maren's Mayer and Theodore Ross for trial on the charge of presenting an immoral play ("Sapho") at Wallack's theater. Bail was fixed at $800 each, which was given.

The superintendent of police has been notified, and on him rests the responsibility of stopping the production of the play.

The actress finally stopped producing the play, the theatre being closed last night.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The presidential party reached Washington from New York. The return trip was made without special incident.

Expedition Started North From Kimberley.

TRouble WITH CECIL RHODES.

Colonel Kekewich and the Diamond Magistrate Had Differences—He Asked Roberts What to Do With Him—The General's Half Humerous Reply.

LONDON, March 6.—Mafeking is to be relieved as soon as the British force already on the way from Kimberley can raise the siege. This force is described vaguely as "strong." The Kimberley Light Horse is mentioned as a component. In view of the fact that the Kimberley Light Horse is under the control of the De Beers company, Lord Roberts

FREDERICK H. BURNHAM.

The American Scout, Who Is Doing Good Work With Lord Roberts.

visit to Kimberley probably had to do with an arrangement with Cecil Rhodes to use this company of troops.

Mr. Rhodes and Colonel Kekewich have had differences of policy, it appears, which did not end with the relief of Kimberley. "What shall I do with him?" Colonel Kekewich is said to have wired to Lord Roberts, who half-humorously replied, according to a story circulated at the clubs, "put him in chains."

Fresh intelligence as to what Lord Roberts is doing has ceased again. This silence is taken to mean that something has happened or is about to happen.

Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch.

Martial law has consequently been declared.

Mr. Chamberlain's request for 2,500 additional Australian bushmen is understood to be explained by the fact that the war office requires this force for the pursuit of irreconcilable Boers, who, according to the intelligence department, have been quietly collecting great quantities of ammunition and stores in the mountain fastnesses of the Zoutpansberg district, in the north of the Transvaal, where they are preparing to carry on guerrilla warfare.

CAPE TOWN, March 6.—Sir Alfred Milner issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, The enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Prieska, Kenhardt, Britstown and Barkley West, and whereas many British subjects have taken up arms, and whereas, it is necessary to repel invasion and suppress rebellion, now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

BULLER'S HEAVY LOSSES.

Witnesses Testified the Negroes Even Insulted Women in Idaho—Lentz's Proposed Queries.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Moses S. Simmons continued his testimony before the house committee on military affairs in the Coeur d'Alene investigation. He testified to the circumstances of his removal from office shortly after the mining demonstration, his arrest and imprisonment in the county jail for five days. A sharp controversy occurred between Chairman Hull and Representative Lentz, who conducted the examination as to whether the witness should state his opinion on the necessity for martial law. On a vote the committee sustained Mr. Hull and excluded this line of inquiry. The witness said he did not have a fair trial on his removal from office.

William Powers testified that he was night watchman and constable at Mullan, Idaho, at the time of the demonstration at Wardner. He disclaimed any knowledge of the blowing up of the mining property. He saw two wagon loads of men returning from Wardner, late in the day, after the explosion. The town was entirely quiet and men went about their work as usual. Then he was arrested and finally landed in the "bull pen."

Powers said the families of imprisoned men suffered until a commissary store was established at Mullan and about $11,000 of charitable contributions from labor unions and the Anti-Trust association was distributed. The military terrorized the people. Women complained that negro soldiers attempted to enter their homes. He knew of no complaints to the commanding officers and there was no investigation.

On cross-examination efforts were made to get the names of the men who returned after the blowing up of the mining property. Mr. Lentz protested. The witness said he had furnished them to the sheriff.

He was treated kindly in the "bull pen" and saw no outrages. He and the sheriff intended to arrest the ring leaders of the crowd which blew up the mining property, but his own arrest prevented action on his part.

Mr. Lentz asked that the committee again call on the war department for all telegrams connected with the subject, and particularly the original instructions to General Merriam. This was agreed to.

Mr. Lentz also asked that President McKinley be asked to submit affidavits alleged to have been filed by citizens of Idaho, showing that there was no need of martial law, and that abuses were occurring under the military system. This request went over, Chairman Hull expressing doubt as to the right to call on the president for papers. The committee admitted the plea of Attorney General Hayes, of Idaho, in the habeas corpus proceedings, Mr. Lentz's purpose being shown by it, that the state conceded that the writ of habeas corpus was suspended.

Boer raiders are uncommonly active in the northwestern section of Cape Colony, where they are stirring up the Dutch.

Martial law has consequently been declared.

Mr. Chamberlain's request for 2,500 additional Australian bushmen is understood to be explained by the fact that the war office requires this force for the pursuit of irreconcilable Boers, who, according to the intelligence department, have been quietly collecting great quantities of ammunition and stores in the mountain fastnesses of the Zoutpansberg district, in the north of the Transvaal, where they are preparing to carry on guerrilla warfare.

CAPE TOWN, March 6.—Sir Alfred Milner issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, The enemy's forces have invaded the districts of Prieska, Kenhardt, Britstown and Barkley West, and whereas many British subjects have taken up arms, and whereas, it is necessary to repel invasion and suppress rebellion, now, therefore, martial law is hereby proclaimed in these districts."

RESCUED BY FIREMEN.

Four Men Carried From a Burning Lodging House, in New Grant Street, Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, March 5.—Prompt work by firemen probably saved a number of lives during the progress of a fire in a lodging house at 732½ New Grant street. Four men were carried out of the building unconscious, having been overcome by smoke. The injured are:

William Miller, 38 years old, a butler; lived near Homestead.

John Miller, aged 30, a laborer, seriously cut about the hands and burned on the arms.

Dennis Gallagher, 40 years old, laborer. George Greeley, 28 years old, of Homestead.

Burns, a laborer, cut about the hands by falling glass.

Scott Clayton, almost suffocated; address not known.

Miller, Millet and Gallagher were taken to the Homeopathic hospital and were unconscious for two hours. Greeley was taken to the Central police station, and was cared for by Dr. R. L. Taylor. The other men received medical attention near the scene of the fire.

New Senator Sworn In.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Hon. Thos. R. Bard, the recently elected senator from California, was presented to the senate when it convened by his colleague, Mr. Perkins. He was conducted to the desk by Mr. Perkins, where the oath was administered by President Pro Tem. Frye.

TAFT NOT IN ACCORD

Acknowledged He Was Not an Expansionist.

HARMON SPRANG A SENSATION.

The Ex-Attorney General Said the Filipinos Had Trusted This Nation, Knowing Its History—Judge William R. Day Spoke—Yet Taft Upheld McKinley.

CINCINNATI, March 6.—The complimentary dinner given at the Queen City club to Judge William H. Taft, the recently appointed president of the Philippine commission, by his friends and neighbors, was unique in its elegance and its good will.

M. E. Ingalls, president of the Big Four Railroad company, presided as toastmaster. After reading a letter of regret from Secretary of War Root, who was unable to attend, and after speaking in a happy vein of Judge Taft and his great mission, he introduced Judge William R. Day, late secretary of state, who spoke of the negotiation of the treaty of peace with Spain.

Judge Day was followed with the closest attention. The heartiest applause was given to his assertion that the aim of the United States is not to exploit trade in the Philippines, but to serve the interests of the people of those islands.

Governor George K. Nash followed Judge Day, speaking pleasantly of Judge Taft as a citizen, lawyer and a judge.

Judge Judson Harmon, attorney general under the last Cleveland administration, was the next speaker.

He created a sensation in his opening sentence. "If you had met to approve the general course of the government with the Philippines," Judge Harmon said, "I should not be here. For 100 years we contented ourselves with words of sympathy for peoples struggling as we once struggled, for freedom and independence. Here, for the first time, an opportunity came to help in such a struggle without breaking our settled policy. We joined ranks with the native patriots against the common enemy. Whether any one made or was authorized to make promises to them is of no consequence. Our history and principles are a perpetual promise: and no one will deny that when the Filipinos joined forces with us, they believed, and we knew that they believed, success would mean the fulfillment of their hopes."

The silence which marked the opening remarks by Judge Harmon was intense. He produced undisguised surprise when he hinted that one of the best qualifications of Judge Taft for this mission was the fact that he was not an expansionist.

Judge William H. Taft, who followed, said in part:

"The commission is not organized. Its members have never conferred together. I speak, therefore, for myself alone. Like Judge Harmon and unlike Chairman Ingalls, I am not now and never have been an expansionist. I have always hoped that the jurisdiction of our nation would not extend beyond territory between the two oceans. We have not solved all the problems of popular government so perfectly as to justify our voluntarily seeking more difficult ones abroad.

"My conviction is that the calm investigation of the future historian into all the conditions existing at the time of taking each step toward the present situation in the Philippines will lead him to conclude that President McKinley and his administration selected in each crisis the only alternative which a due regard to our national and international obligations would permit."

Judge Taft was frequently interrupted with applause, which was especially vigorous when he announced the charge given by the president to the new commission and when he spoke of the necessity of enforcing civil service in the Philippines. At the close of his address the entire assembly arose and cheered to the echo the distinguished guest of the evening.

The presentation of a handsome silver loving cup to Judge Taft closed the exercises, and the guests departed after singing "America."

The Poet's Choice.
"I don't care for your poem, 'The Song of the Lark,'" remarked the editor. The poet sighed wearily.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

ELWOOD BABB DEAD.

DIED YESTERDAY OF CONSUMPTION.

Supt. McNally Says Entire Grading of Extension Will be Completed This Month.

Elwood Babb, aged 30 years, died at his home in Chester yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Consumption was the cause of death. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being made in the Chester Heights cemetery. He will be the third person to be buried in the new grounds.

Mrs. Babb is also very ill and for several weeks has been under the care of a physician. It is feared by friends that her condition is critical.

THE LAST MONTH.

Grading on Cumberland Extension Will Soon be Completed.

It will not be many weeks now until the entire grading on the extension of the Cumberland branch will be completed. Superintendent George McNally was seen yesterday afternoon and said that by the last of the month the grading would be completed and the steam shovel shipped to a point near Union town, where the other shovels are working. The railroad company have laid rails up to the shovel and a gang of men are now employed in ballasting the road from the east end of the trestle over Mark's run to the eastern terminus.

No Meeting For Weeks.

The school directors of the Grant district school will not meet until after the close of the present school term, which is in April. One of the members said yesterday that a new school building was needed, and that very likely some steps would be taken during the summer for the erection of a new building or for remodeling the present building.

Work Was Delayed.

It was arranged that work on the new board walk should have been started this morning, but the plans were not put into execution on account of the inclement weather.

Will Build a Stable.

Garrett Mercer and George A. Arner have made arrangements for the erection of a large stable near the First street bridge. Work will commence early next week.

Stacks Are Erected.

Two large smoke stacks at the Chester rolling mill have been erected. They were built over the boiler room and are about 150 feet high.

Among the Sick.

Dr. J. N. Russell is still very ill at his home on First avenue. His condition is not thought to be critical.

COMMENCED WORK.

Land Appraiser George M. Adam Has Started His Work.

Land Appraiser G. M. Adam yesterday commenced his work in the East End and he was assisted by J. B. Appell. They succeeded in getting through the additions of the East End and the Oakland land companies, making a total of some 300 lots. They are working in the East End again today and it will take the entire four months to finish the work.

Fined Forty and Costs.

LISBON, March 6.—[Special.]—Matthew Degan, of Leetonia, was fined $40 and costs for assault and battery upon John Cavanaugh.

WILL START MONDAY.

Pathetic Death of a Little East End Girl—News of the Suburb.

President J. R. Warner, of the National Pottery company, is authority for the statement that the National pottery will commence operations next Monday. The clay presses are now being placed in position, and unless present indications fail, arrangements to start the plant will be carried out to the letter. Thus East End will have in operation another industry. For years the flint mill, sewerpipe works and East End pottery were the only industries in that part of the city, but now matters are changed. The Laughlin China company and the National pottery mean much to the suburb, and some public spirited men in East End stand ready and willing to assist any other company which desires to build a factory and locate in that part of the city. The National pottery will employ in the neighborhood of probably 125 persons, and some of these will make their home in the new Fifth ward, intending to move there during the spring and summer.

DEATH RELIEVED HER.

Pathetic Death of a Little Girl Who Has Been an Invalid Since Birth.

There died in East End yesterday afternoon, shortly before three o'clock, a little child who was an invalid since its birth. She was the five year old daughter of Mrs. Duncan, of St. George street, and a niece of David Duncan, who is employed at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery. The child was blind. Death was caused by a tumor in the brain, near the eye. Several times she was taken to Pittsburgh and other cities where examinations were conducted, but no operation was ever performed. Yesterday afternoon word was sent to Dr. Mowen that the child was ill and those in the house did not think it could live, but before he reached the house, it was dead.

NEW OFFICERS.

Will Be Elected by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Second Pres. Church.

Tomorrow evening the regular monthly meeting of the Christian Endeavor society of the Second Presbyterian church will be held. New officers will be elected to serve for the balance of the year. The society is one of the largest of its kind in the East End, and at present it is in flourishing condition.

Among the Sick.

Willard Lewellen is quite ill at his home on Elm street with typhoid fever. Benjamin Heckathorn is seriously ill at his home in Helena with pneumonia. He has been in poor health for a long time and his friends are of the opinion his illness will prove fatal.

Mrs. George McKinnon is ill at her home on Railroad street with grip.

Resigned His Position.

Harry Merchant, for sometime engineer at the East End pottery, has resigned his position. The plant is now without an engineer, and until one is secured some inconvenience will result to other parts of the pottery.

Will Give a Dance.

A private dance will be given this evening at the home of Mrs. Fetty in Dixonville.

Born.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. George Steele,

In the East childlessness is considered a curse from the gods. It is a pathetic sight to see some childless Hindoo mother prostrate before an idol, imploring that the curse of childlessness may be taken away.

Are we much wiser than the heathen? Thousands of childless women are not as they suppose under Nature's ban, but are suffering from a diseased condition of the delicate feminine organs. It may be debilitating drains or female weakness, and perhaps an ulcerated and inflamed condition of the parts. In any case the diseased condition must be removed and a healthy condition established before the maternal function can be fulfilled.

Many a mother acknowledges her debt to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and to its inventor Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., who invites the sick to write and consult him without charge. "Favorite Prescription" promptly allays irritation, heals ulceration, checks the debilitating drains, cures female weakness and the accompanying bearing down pains. It gives vitality and elasticity to the organs peculiarly feminine, and establishes the natural conditions which make for the easy birth of healthy children.

There is nothing just as good for you as "Favorite Prescription." Don't be put off with a substitute.

"I have never written you how grateful I am to you for your help in securing good health and one of the sweetest, dearest thirteen pound girls that ever came into a home," writes Mrs. M. Vastine, of 647 South Liberty St., Galesburg, Ill. "When I wrote you about my ailments I was living in Richland, Iowa. I took six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Before I had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' I was a new woman. I cannot make pen describe my heartfelt gratitude."

Missionary Meeting.

The Women's Missionary society of the Second U. P. church will hold a meeting in the church next Thursday afternoon. An interesting program has been prepared.

Personals.

John Miller, of Hanover, Pa., spent yesterday in the East End, the guest of J. B. Van Fossen.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to return our sincere thanks to Dr. Clark Crawford, pastor of the First M. E. church; to the choir of the First M. E. church; to the employees of the Dresden pottery; to the members of the Young Men's Christian association, and to the neighbors and friends in general who were so unselfishly kind to us in our sad bereavement, in the death of our beloved son and brother, William R. Mountford.

MRS. ELIZA MOUNTFORD AND FAMILY.

Now is the time to leave your order for a spring suit at F. Laufenberger's and avoid the rush.

LISBON, March 6.—[Special.]—Burglars tried to make an entrance to the residence of Mrs. H. C. McElroy on North Market street last night but were frightened off by neighbors whose attention was attracted by the screams of Mrs. McElroy.

HON. ISAAC H. TAYLOR

This Eminent Jurist Is a Candidate Before the People For Re-election.

By reference to regular card in another column, it will be noted that Hon. Isaac H. Taylor is a candidate for re-election to the position of common pleas judge. The Republican Standard, of Carrollton, Ohio, speaks of his candidacy in the following terms:

"The first sub-division of the ninth judicial district is composed of the counties of Carroll, Columbiana and Stark. The judges now occupying the bench are Thomas T. McCarty, of Canton; Warren W. Hole, of Salem; Isaac H. Taylor, Carrollton. Thus each of the counties of the district has a judge.

"Here they is, lady," he said.

"Well, just put them down under the berth, please," said she. The man hesitated a moment.

"Can you—can you put them on by yourself?" he asked.

"What, the shoes?" asked the lady.

"No, miss," answered the porter. "I means your feet. Ain't these yere things feet?"

Since then she has carried the ghastly looking boot trees in her trunk.—Washington Post.

GET INSIDE.

Your Friends and Neighbors In East Liverpool Will Show You How.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

A liniment may relieve, but can't cure. Backache comes from the inside, from the kidneys.

Doan's kidney pills get inside.

They cure sick kidneys.

Here is East Liverpool proof that this is so:

Mr. H. Thompson, of 306 Fourth street, presser at the D. E. McNicol pottery, and resident of East Liverpool for the past 45 years, says: "During my campaign experiences between the years of '61 and '64 I contracted a weakness of the kidneys, and at intervals I had an aching pain across the small of my back and was subject to attacks of muscular rheumatism especially in damp weather. I was frequently so bad that I could scarcely get up when down, and in fact could hardly get around at all. I tried many remedies endeavoring to get rid of my trouble, but found nothing until I got Doan's kidney pills at the W. & W. pharmacy. They filled the bill exactly, giving me almost immediate relief, and warded off the last attack."

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

As Seen From a Democratic Standpoint—Potts' Patriot Speaks.

The Lisbon Patriot (Democratic) says: "The Republicans of this congressional district are all stirred up over the coming contest between Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. C. C. Baker, of Alliance, for congressional honors. The primaries in this county take place March 24, and the forces are lining up in the field of action." Baker's friends now claim that he will carry 50 delegates out of the 81 in this county. Tayler's manager, however, disputes this, and claims a solid delegation. It is quite certain that most of the active politicians of the court house ring are against Tayler, and that means much to Baker. The ringsters generally have things their own way. The court house is a hotbed of opposition to Tayler, but he claims to be strong with the masses. The soldier element is for Tayler, and that will mean a great many votes to him in the county. Many charges are made against Tayler, among them being these two: First—He is not social with the people. He passes them on the street without recognition. He knows them only when he wants their votes. Second—He has never made an effort to get federal appointments for his constituents in this county. He never tried to exert an influence with the president, but sat still and let others get the plums. He allowed Mr. Laylin to be appointed receiver of the First National, when, if he had even turned his hand over, he could have secured the appointment of George B. Harvey. These are the things urged against him, and they are having a telling effect. It now looks as though Baker would beat Tayler."

Dislocated His Arm.

W. H. Streets, who had his arm dislocated several weeks ago in attempting to get on a moving street car, was taken to the West Penn hospital this morning by Dr. W. A. Beane. Streets had the misfortune to throw his arm out after it had been set and did not go to the physician until after it had begun to knit. It will require some time to get his arm in place again and it may always be stiff.

HON. C. C. BAKER

Receives the Strong Endorsement of John C. Fremont Post, G. A. R.

We clip the following respecting Hon. C. C. Baker from the ALLIANCE REVIEW of March 3rd:

"At a meeting of John C. Fremont Post, G. A. R., held Friday evening, the following was unanimously adopted:

"WHEREAS, The Hon. C. C. Baker, a comrade of John C. Fremont Post No 729, G. A. R., of Alliance, O., has announced himself a candidate for the congressional nomination in this, the Eighteenth Ohio district, and

WHEREAS, Believing as we do, (all else being equal,) that the old soldiers' interests will be better conserved if committed to the keeping of one whose loyalty to comrades and the flag was welded in the fire of battle, therefore be it

Resolved, That we not only unanimously endorse the candidacy of Comrade Baker, but earnestly appeal to all soldiers in the district to join with us in carrying aloft the banner of one who is a born gentleman, an honest man, who was a brave and gallant soldier, and in business affairs has been a pronounced success.

JAMES H. DALZELL, P. C.
W. K. ELLETT, Adjutant."

"A Trip to Chinatown" Tonight.

Hoyt's famous satire, "A Trip to Chinatown," opened at the Duquesne last night to a crowded house. It was constructed for laughing purposes, and it never made an audience laugh more heartily than it did that of last night. There is a wealth of unusual farce-comedy scenery and a number of strikingly pretty girls who help in the general effect. The funny story of the Chinatown expedition which never occurred is retained, but that is all there is of the old farce. Harry Gilfoil is the new Welland Strong. He made a hit last night, and as a companion in the dashing Chicago widow, Miss Mabel Montgomery shared honors with him.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Guy Bros.' Minstrels.

Thursday night, at the Grand, the theater going public of the city will have a chance to see a first-class minstrel show given by Guy Brothers. The six Guy brothers, in their separate roles, are star artists, and improve with age. They have a company of first class minstrel artists and never fail to please. Watch for the grand parade at noon.

It Is Better Than a Mortgage or Real Estate.

In these days of active speculation it is more secure and pays better to deposit your savings in the Pittsburg bank for savings, No. 210 Fourth avenue, Pittsburg, Pa., where it earns 4 per cent interest, compounded twice a year, than to take the chance in investments not absolutely sure of a dividend. You can deposit by mail as easily and safely as in person in this bank. Write or call for booklet describing how it is done.

Chinese Inquests.
Coroners' inquests are well known among the Chinese. One of the chief differences between their system and ours is that the Chinese doctors never dissect. In fact, Chinamen have a perfect horror of dissection.

There are few things more absurd than the code of rules laid down for the Chinese coroner. In the first place, he is bidden to make sure that he has a dead body before he begins his inquest. That, however, is less ridiculous than it sounds, for the heathen Chinese is tricky and may demand an inquest on a sham deceased with a view of extorting money from some person who may be denounced as having caused the death.

The preposterous part of the code comes in with regard to the alleged signs which show the cause of death. If the deceased is supposed to have been poisoned, rice is put into his mouth and then taken out and given to a chicken. Its effect on the fowl decides the question. Most of the other methods adopted are even more absurd and fanciful, and, as a result, inquests in China do very little to prevent crime.—Chicago News.

He Won the Bet.

A showman was making great noise at the front of the exhibition of "wonders" he had on show. A man standing in the crowd, with a little dog beside him, cried out:

"I'll bet you a quid you can't let me see a lion."

"Done!" said the showman eagerly. "Put down your money."

The man placed a sovereign in the hand of a bystander, and the showman did the same.

"Now walk this way," said the showman, "and I'll soon convince you. There!" said he triumphantly. "Look in that corner at the beautiful Numidian lion."

"I don't see any," responded the other.

"What's the matter with you?" asked the showman.

"I'm blind," was the reply, and in a few minutes the blind man pocketed the two sovereigns and went away.—London Answers.

The Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, March 6.—The strength in wheat caused early Monday by earlier cables, later gave way to the bearish aspect of the movement and the lack of demand. May closed $\frac{1}{4}$ at $\frac{3}{4}$ down. May corn closed $\frac{3}{8}$ c, and May oats a shade lower. Provisions at the close were $2\frac{1}{2}$ at $7\frac{1}{2}$ c depressed from Saturday. May wheat opened $\frac{1}{4}$ c over Saturday, at $66\frac{1}{2}$ c, encouraged by higher cables.

JOSEPH BEARDMORE.

ONE vote for clean government is worth all the resolutions ever passed.

THE British government refuses to license American dentists. Haven't got enough pull, perhaps.

REPUBLICANS and Democrats alike are wondering how such a man as Joseph
Sibley could ever have been a Democrat.

AS USUAL, the Democratic national convention will be held after the Republican. If it met before it wouldn't know what it was to declare against.

SUPPOSING Bryan was elected next
fall—just supposing, you know there's absolutely no chance whatever of his really being elected—but supposing he was, what do you suppose he would do with the Philippines?

ODD, ISN'T IT?

The Democrats claim that present
prosperity just happened, that the Republican party had nothing to do with it.
Strange that it was never known to happen during a Democratic administration.

POINTER FOR FILIPINOS.

The 9,000 American soldiers in Cuba
will soon be reduced to 5,000, the restoration of order in the island permitting the withdrawal of the others. The deluded Filipino ought to make a note
and settle down.

The Cleveland Leader, treating the

Clark local option bill as a matter of practical politics and vote-getting, says
there can be no question of the passage of the bill. The total saloon vote of Ohio, according to the Leader's figures,
is 30,000. The anti-saloon league has a voting power of 100,000, while the church element is estimated at 250,000.

TRULY JEFFERSONIAN.

Mr. Bryan will please observe that it is proposed to give the Filipinos true
Jeffersonian government. The plan
recommended by the Philippine commission will be the same as that drafted by Jefferson for the government of the Louisiana purchase.

SYMPATHY THAT COST.

After the Democratic members of the state legislature had worked several days getting names to a telegram of sympathy to the Boers, they found it would cost $2,700 to cable the message.
As their sympathy did not go quite that far the cable was not sent. But it beautifully illustrated the Democratic habit of jumping in without counting
the cost.

THE "WHIPPING POST."

As a rule, any humane man or woman will condemn the "whipping post"
as a mode of punishment and term it
an uncivilized mode or method of punishment; but, if ever a miserable coward, unworthy of the name of man, deserved a full dose at the whipping post,
the WIFE BEATER is that delectable individual.

IMPORTANCE RECOGNIZED.

The importance of electing good and capable councilmen is apparently becoming better recognized every year.
The Republican primaries in the various cities of this state this spring show a larger proportion of councilmen pledged
to reform nominated than at any primaries on record. No municipal office
is of more vital importance to the well-being of the community. None can make or mar a city, improve or disgrace
a municipality, more than council, according to whether the men in that body
be honest and capable or dishonest and incapable.

REPUBLICAN PAPERS.

Republicans should patronize Republican papers, and Democrats follow the same rule with Democratic papers. This is the general rule all over the land.
Don't warm a serpent at your fireplace
or hearthstone, as the vicious creature
may be revivified and send deadly poison
into your veins. As for the cormorant
or bloodsucker, which is no man's friend, and cares only for his shekels,
not daring to fling any flag to the breeze, you will do well to avoid it entirely, as some of the late contestants
for municipal office wish they had done,
especially some of the winners.

A FAMILY SCRAP.

Battle Last Night at Their Home In the Diamond.

David and Melville Wooley had an old fashioned family scrap at their home in the Diamond last evening. Officers Mahony and Grim arrested them and they were taken to city hall where they put up security for their appearance this evening when they will explain how it all happened.

lege Has Grounds For Congratulation.

Mr. Charles Bowers, Misses Grace and Hattie Ashbaugh, Katie and Annie O'Donnell and Margaret Needham, entered the night school at the Ohio Valley Business college yesterday. There is now on the roll of this fine educational establishment some one hundred and sixty students and over ninety scholars

ASSESSMENTS

ARE ABOLISHED

At One of the Most Interesting Meetings
Held For a Long Time—Dr. Williams
Brought Up the Piano and Picture Levies
and Had Them Stopped.

At the meeting of the board of education
last evening Dr. J. C. Taggart was the only member absent. He missed one of the most interesting meetings of the board held during this term of school.
The session, while not lengthy, will mark a new era in the government of the schools inasmuch as the assessment
idea was forever abolished.

Janitor John M. Orr, of the Grant street school, asked for an increase in his salary from $25 to $40 a month. He has a number of extra rooms to take care
of and the board gave him an increase,
dating from January 1. He is now receiving the same salary as the janitor of
the Sixth street building.

James Whetton, janitor of the East End school, wanted $5 for cleaning the small school building on Pennsylvania avenue last summer, but action was deferred until the next meeting.

The following bills were ordered
paid: Ohio Valley Gas company, $267.15;
Fort Pitt Gas company, $7.80;
Telephone company, $24.75; H. W.
Corns, $40; typewriter cabinet, $53.80;
Diamond Hardware company, 55 cents;
Thomas Wolf, $3.15; Bowen, Merrill &
Co., $96; Eagle Hardware company,
$137.36; Robert Moore, $38.62; R. E.
Rayman, expenses to Chicago, $30.20.
Total, $473.88.

L. C. Williams rose to inquire into the circumstances surrounding the renting
of a piano for Miss Austin's room in the Central building. He understood the scholars some time ago voted to rent a piano for that room. The piano was rented, and the scholars were assessed a fixed sum each month, 40 cents, to pay
the rent. He had heard that some of the scholars had been kept in after hours
for failing to bring the assessment. In one instance a child was kept in six times because she did not bring the money for the piano. It was said the child was told to go home and not return until she brought the 40 cents with her. Mr. Williams said he went to see
the parents, and was told that the father

wrote a note to the teacher about the matter. The father told Mr. Williams that it was not the 40 cents but the principle involved that he objected to.
Mr. Williams' remarks caused a sensation. There was a dead silence for a few moments and then Dr. W. T. Norris arose. He said: "I think it would be a good idea to make a rule to stop this assessment business. The board should pay for such articles if needed."

Mr. Williams continued by saying that they were now making a collection
at the Sixth street school to buy pictures
to place on the walls.

Geo. C. Murphy failed to see anything wrong in that. The scholars were doing this among themselves and the board had nothing to do with it.

President O. C. Vodrey asked Mr.
Williams if the complaints about this assessment had been brought before the board by the proper channel.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman said
they had not.

President Vodrey said: "The superintendent is in touch with the teachers,
scholars and parents, and parents feel ing they have a complaint to make
should go to the superintendent."

Doctor Norris: "We had better stop
all collections. We purchase readers for the scholars, and why not purchase
other things that are needed in the schools. A child may vote to have a piano placed in the room, but the parents may not have the money to pay the assessment."

Superintendent Rayman said that in all cases where complaints were made,
after both sides were heard, settlements were usually reached easily. The first complaint had yet to be brought to the board for final settlement. They had always been adjusted by the school authorities without having to appeal to the board.

Dr. Williams moved and Dr. Norris
seconded a motion that the assessment
plan be prohibited.

Dr. Williams said in some cases he had been told the names of scholars who had failed to bring their assessment had been posted on the blackboard.

Mr. Rayman said he had not heard of that.

W. B. Hill suggested that the whole matter be investigated before a vote was taken on the motion abolishing assessments.

Mr. Murphy objected, saying that if scholars wanted pictures on the walls of their room they had a perfect right to buy them.

Mr. Hill rose to a point of order, and read from the school rules the following:

"No collection shall be taken up in any of the schools, by the teachers or anyone else, for any purpose whatever;" and also, "Parents or guardians feeling
aggrieved shall apply to the superintendent for redress, but in no case shall they seek satisfaction from teachers at their rooms. In case dissatisfaction arises
with the decision of the superintendent
it may be taken to the committee on discipline, and if dissatisfaction arises
again an appeal may be taken to the board."

President Vodrey sustained Mr. Hill.

Mr. Williams: "Does this mean,
then, that from now on there shall be
no assessment of any kind?"

"It certainly does," said Mr. Hill.

The board then abolished the assessment of $1 on every scholar upon their entry to the high school. This money
is used to purchase books for the high school library, but hereafter these books
will be purchased by the board.

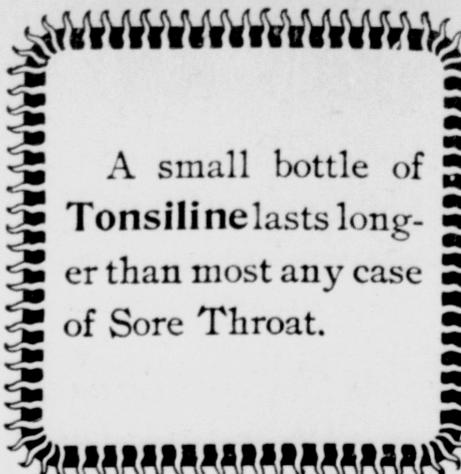

The discussion was then ended, and
the board instructed the superintendent
to extend its sympathy to the family of Mrs. Edwin Roberts, the janitor of the Gardendale school, who died Sunday morning.

Superintendent Rayman, when seen
this morning, said he had notified the
teachers to at once prohibit the collection of further assessments in the schools for any purpose. He says he has personally
investigated the charges that children
had been sent home for failing to bring assessments and the names of delinquents posted upon the blackboard. The teachers told him that there hadn't
been a single case of either kind; no
children had been sent home and no
names had been posted for failure to pay
assessments.

Accepted Those of Barnum, of Cleveland—Church to Cost
$15,000 and Seat 600.

The congregation of the St. Stephen's Episcopal church met last evening and
decided what kind of a building they would erect to take the place of the church destroyed by fire some weeks
ago. There were three sets of plans examined by the vestry, which met in the rectory, and the plans submitted by Barnum & Hall, of Cleveland, were looked upon with favor by the vestry-
men. All plans were then presented to the congregation, after which they decided to use the plans from the Cleveland architects. The new church will cost not less than $15,000 and will have
a seating capacity of 600.

A Forgotten Countersign.

"War with raw recruits in the beginning is apt to lead to many amusing
experiences," said the old army officer
who saw service in Cuba. "Now, you couldn't ask for better soldiers than we had in Cuba, but a large number of them were new to the business and had much to learn, and, much to their credit,
it can be said that they soon learned
it."

"I had occasion to leave our lines one night soon after we arrived in Cuba,
and upon my return it suddenly struck
me that I had forgotten the counter-
sign. I puzzled over it for some time,
but for the life of me I couldn't recall
the word that had been given out.
While I was thinking it over I heard
the command:

"Halt! Who comes there?"

"Friend," I answered, thinking that the countersign would come to me in a moment.

"Advance, friend, and give the coun-tersign," said the sentry.

"As the countersign had slipped from me completely I walked up to him and
said sharply:

"Call the corporal of the guard!"

"Gosh," answered the sentry, "I knew it was something like that, but I'm durned if I hadn't forgotten it!
Mosey on!"

"I 'mosied,' but I took the trouble to look up the corporal of the guard and
have him give the sentry further instructions regarding the duties of a sentry."—Detroit Free Press.

Charlie Quayle Bitten by a Dog Bitten by a Mad Dog, Yet No Sign of Hydrophobia.

KENSINGTON, March 6.—[Special]—David Quayle, a carpenter on the Cleveland and Pittsburg road, moved from Wellsville to Kensington in October and in moving took with him a pet dog. Soon after the dog was bitten by another, supposed to have been mad. Quayle's dog showed no signs of madness, however, and, it was thought, had passed all danger. About nine weeks ago Quayle's ten-year-old boy Charlie was lying on the floor with one arm thrown over his head, when the dog suddenly sprang upon him and bit him in the cheek, knocking out a tooth. The dog was at once killed. Although it was feared the boy would have hydrophobia, no sign of it was apparent. Last Thursday the boy took sick. Anything white in the room where he lay threw him into convulsions. Sunday evening he died. He was conscious up to the last and passed away painlessly. His funeral was held from the Wellsville Methodist Protestant church today. The case is regarded as a remarkable one.

DRUNKEN WOMEN.

They Staggered Along Our Public Streets Yesterday Evening.

It was a most disgusting sight as the females staggered along our public thoroughfares, one of the number upheld by a male companion, while little children, boys and girls, gazed and wondered and made comment. There were two men and two women in the party, and common decency should have required that they be assisted into the Black Maria and conveyed to the cooler. Speed the day when no such disgusting and shameful sights shall be witnessed in this pottery center.

A Run Away Horse Made Very Fast Time Down Avondale Street Sunday Night.

There was quite an exciting run off on Avondale street Sunday night. A man named Buchheit and a young lady named McCurran were out buggy riding when the horse became gay. The animal started at the top of the street and went down hill at the rate of a mile a minute, the driver being powerless to check its mad flight. When the bottom of the hill was reached the horse jumped clear across the sidewalk and landed the buggy in a hole, while the occupants of the vehicle were precipitated into space but sustained no injuries when they alighted on terra firma. The buggy was badly wrecked.

"How will it go away?" replied little Edith, her voice broken with sobs. "I can't take my teeth out like you can, mamma."—Ohio State Journal.

KELL ESCAPED.

And He Was Wanted to Answer to a Charge of Non-Support, but He Took Leave.

Yesterday a warrant was made out for the arrest of Charles Kell upon a charge of non-support. Kell was arrested a short time ago and the case was settled, but Kell refused to live up to the agreement and Constable Miller went after him. He found that Kell was working at the pottery of R. Thomas & Sons, but when Miller arrived there with the warrant Kell went out another door. He was pursued by the constable to his home, but again escaped and last night Miller went to Yellow Creek in the hope of securing his man, but failed to get a sight of him. It is thought he went to Steubenville, and Miller says he will get him in the end.

Future Punishment.

I do not believe the punishment will be any greater in the next world for what we do and perhaps not so great as for that which we do not do. A poor, unfortunate being, born of depraved parents, knowing nothing but sin of the worst kind, surely is not as responsible for his condition as one born of good parents amid Christian surroundings. If we sit with our hands folded, puffed up with silly pride, afraid of the opinion of society, afraid to lend a helping hand, afraid to love them and afraid of their love, surely God is more displeased with us, with our foolish pride, than He is with them in their sin and ignorance.—Martina R. THE OCEAN PEDDLER.

Methods of Trading Vessels That Go to Many Out of the Way Corners of the World—How the Captain Disposes of His Cargo.

The man with a pack on his back, trudging from village to village and offering for sale at cottage and farmhouse a miscellaneous collection of wares, has his counterpart in the ocean peddler, ranging in size from a schooner trading among the islands of the Pacific to a steamer of 1,000 to 2,000 tons burden.

The ocean peddler starts out from Hamburg or San Francisco, the chief home ports of the trade, with a definite object in view. Sailing from the former city the course is generally laid either to the coast of Africa or South America, having in the hold a varied assortment of goods likely to be marketable in the regions visited—cotton fabrics, trinkets, arms, ammunition, liquors and all spare room filled up with coal.

As the largest profits are often derived from the sale of contraband goods, such as munitions of war to insurgent bodies, and as detection by regular authorities would lead to confiscation, several thousand rounds of cartridges are probably done up in innocent looking cases stamped "Canned Beef" and a few stands of discarded German army rifles in packages labeled "Glass, With Care."

The captain of such a vessel must possess not only ability as a navigator, but an expert knowledge of the requirements of his trade in addition to a plausible tongue wherewith to barter and win over the good will of an ill disposed official. If he does not own an interest in the ship, it is generally required that he shall in her cargo.

Trudging along over the ocean at a seven or eight knot gait, saving his coal as much as possible, the peddler opens his trade by casting anchor in, say, a South or Central American port, when, having squared the commandant, he invites merchants and others on board to inspect his stock.

Duty, of course, has to be paid by the purchaser, but in certain cases that difficulty is often overcome by the visitor to the ship going ashore swollen out perhaps to three times his normal size by as many new suits of clothing.

The greatest good fortune that can fall in the way of an ocean peddler is for an American or British man-of-war to put into some out of the way port in which he is lying, short of coal. Then from his spare stock he sells a few hundred tons at as hard a bargain as the necessity of the purchaser permits him to drive.

On the Central American coast the peddler usually times his visit at about the opening of the coffee season—that is, early in the new year—so that when he has sold out his wares he is able to load up, almost to the water line, with the principal export of the country.

That the ocean peddling trade is not without its dangers is illustrated by a story told by a mate of one of those vessels. In order to preserve his respectable character the contraband goods are sometimes stored in places likely to escape the vigilant eye of the customs officer, and in the case in question the mate's bunk was chosen as the safest repository for certain packages of dynamite consigned to the leaders of a Nicaraguan revolution.

All went well until the night before the ship was due to arrive at her destination, when a thunderstorm occurred, the lightning playing about the masts in an alarming manner. The mate confessed that the idea of turning in upon a bed of dynamite under such circumstances was not conducive to peaceful repose even to one accustomed to sleep through all manner of dangers, but with the reflection that if a flash found its way to his bunk he would not be likely to be made aware of the fact he slumbered serenely through his watch below and next day delivered the "canned tomatoes" safely to the consignee.

The ocean peddling trade on the Pacific has been shorn of much of its profit since the interisland passenger traffic in natives, who too often were carried as passengers, much against their will, to dive for pearls on the great Australian bank, has been effectually suppressed. Still a considerable trade is carried on in small articles of hardware, old clothes, personal trinkets and an occasional case of "dry goods," which, if seized, would turn out to be remarkably wet.—New York Sun.

Old German Wash Lists.

The old German housewife had a strange way of keeping track of the clothes she gave out to be washed. It was nothing less than a pictorial and perpetual wash list. There was no possibility of making such an error as to mistake the abbreviation Sh. for shirts or St. for stockings. She had pictures of each article and simply wrote down the number of each thing opposite its picture with a piece of chalk, which was erased when the thing was returned and used again on the following week.—Cleveland Leader.

The Truthful Prince.

In his book about Persia, "The Land of the Lion and the Sun," Dr. Wills says that he was once conversing with the king's son, and a large circle of courtiers and priests filled the room. The prince narrated his exploits in hunting the antelope the previous day and gravely stated that while pursuing a pair of ahu when riding a very restive horse his headstall broke.

"What should you have done, doctor?" asked the prince.

"Ah, that was because you were not a prince," he said. "I leaned forward, and, unclasping my belt, placed it in the horse's mouth as a bridle, and, thus directing him, pursued my game and killed both antelope."

All the circle applauded, as of course they were bound to do. Dr. Wills was silent.

"You don't mean to say you don't believe that?" said the prince. "Speak out if you don't. I shan't be offended in the least."

"Well, your highness, I don't believe it."

"Quite right, darogh bood" (it was a lie), unblushingly replied his royal highness and burst into a fit of laughter quite unabashed. The circle of courtiers, of course, were convulsed.

She Smoked.

A patient of one of the leading specialists who treat polypi in the nose and throat is a woman well known for her work in Sunday schools in this city. She has a record as the organizer of a number of anticigarette leagues among the schoolboys. She came to her doctor the other day. He cheered her greatly by telling her he could cure her quickly and without the use of the knife.

"But you must promise to follow my directions," said the doctor, with the suspicion of a twinkle in his eye.

"Oh, I promise," said the lady.

"Without qualification?" asked the physician.

"Absolutely without qualification," answered the lady.

"Well, then, you must smoke cigarettes."

The lady gasped. Visions of what might happen if she were seen with a cigarette between her teeth by any of her pupils floated before her, and she almost fainted. But the doctor was inexorable. The lady followed his directions, and in a week the foreign growth in her nose had disappeared. But that doesn't mean that the lady is now a confirmed cigarette smoker.—United States Tobacco Journal.

How She Knew.

Speaking of kindergartens for colored children calls to mind the experience of a "befo' de war" matron who was teaching one of the little darkies on her plantation how to spell.

The primer she used was a pictorial one, and over each word was its accompanying picture, and Polly glibly spelled o-x, ox, and b-o-x, box, etc. But the teacher thought that she was making rapid progress, so she put her hand over the picture and said:

"Polly, what does o-x spell?"

"Ox," answered Polly nimbly.

"How do you know that it spells ox, Polly?"

"Seed his tail," replied the apt Polly—Memphis Scimitar.

Satisfied Her.

Prospective Bride—I know it's foolish, doctor, but to gratify a natural curiosity will you please let me see the form of service you intend to use in marrying us?

The Rev. Dr. Fourthly—It will not be necessary, my dear young woman. I never use the word "obey" in the marriage service.—Chicago Tribune.

A physician calculates that it takes eight times the strength to go up stairs that is required for the same distance on the level.

Other Features.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Attention in the stock market continued to be largely diverted to the feverish and excited fluctuations of a small number of stocks. Manipulation by the bears was largely responsible for the changes. In the case of sugar the operations of the professional traders were interrupted by the unexpected action of the directors in declaring a quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent on the common stock.

The stock opened under pressure, but, after falling nearly 2 points, encountered very vigorous support and was rallied to 103½ by noon. A 2,000-share lot was taken at that price when the news became known of the dividend action. Enormous selling for both accounts immediately followed, and the prices slumped by wide breaks, with occasional spasmodic rallies to 97. Fluctuations were very wild on the recovery to par. The flood of offerings prevented the rise above that, but on the reaction to 98 large buying was in evidence again, which rallied it to 99½, where it closed at a net loss of 1¾. In the half hour after mid day transactions in this single stock reached the enormous aggregate of 62,000 shares. There were sharp breaks in Tobacco and Tennessee Coal at the same time with the slump in Sugar, but the general market was not affected.

The market was again unsettled in the late dealings by an attack on Steel Hoop, People's Gas and, Consolidated Gas, driving them down three or four points. New York Central reacted 1½, but otherwise the railroad list was little affected and retained a fair sprinkling of net gains. Third avenue, after having risen to 58½, was forced down to 54 in the late dealings, and Tennessee Coal also yielded to pressure. A quotation of 3½ per cent was made for call money in the course of the late bear raid on stocks. The money market during the day showed no sign of disturbance and there was no evidence of liquidation being forced by the calling of loans. London was not a factor in this market.

The bond market was rather dull and irregular. Total sales par value $1,760,000.

United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

They Exchanged Festive Telegrams on the Occasion of the Former's Birthday.

BERLIN, March 6.—The Allegermine Zeitung published, on the text of a telegram sent by Emperor William to the pope, as follows:

"I beg your holiness to accept my sincere congratulations on the ninetieth anniversary of your birthday. I enter in the most sincere wishes for your health and happiness, and pray that God will pour down all his blessings on your holiness."

To this the pope replied:

"In the congratulations which your majesty was good enough to address to us on the ninetieth anniversary of our birth we see with pleasure fresh testimony of your friendly sentiments which fill your majesty. Accept our thanks as well as the prayers which we, in our turn, offer up for the prosperity of your majesty and all the imperial family."

SIG PUGS MATCHED.

Fitzsimmons' Will Fight Sharkey the First Week in August.

NEW YORK, March 6.—Tom Sharkey and Bob Fitzsimmons signed articles of agreement for a 25-round bout before the club offering the largest purse, during the first week of August, winner to take all the purse. Marquis of Queensberry rules will govern. The men and the club are each to put up a forfeit of $5,000.

Bids for the fight will be opened at 8 p. m., March 19, by Al Smith.

Thanks For Pope's Long Reign.

ROME, March 6.—A large crowd gathered at St. Peter's to take part in regular thanksgiving on the pope's attaining his 90th birthday. Cardinal Rampolla, papal secretary of state, surrounded by 1,000 jubilee pilgrims bearing lighted tapers, officiated. The exterior of the basilica was illuminated.

Soap as a Germ Killer.

It has been shown by Koch and others that soap is a microbicid, or germ killer, and, according to Professor Serafini, soda or potash soap is quite a good disinfectant, not only because of the alkalis, but the combination itself. Heating the water favors the effect. Resinous soaps are not the best disinfectants. Marseilles soap is very good. A solution of 3 or 4 per cent kills the most resisting microbes.—Washington Times.

HEAVY LOSS OF THE REBELS

In Fighting In Camarines Province, Luzon, 64 were killed—U. S. Officer Died of Wounds.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—General Otis cabled the following account of recent military operations in Luzon:

"MANILA, March 5.—Bates, with two battalions of the Forty-fifth and Forty-fifth regiments and detachments of artillery, engineers and signal corps, total, 2,200 men, landed troops on the southeast, northwest and southern coasts of San Miguel bay, Camarines province, to move on Nueva Caceres in three columns, and Porto Rico.

The only strong opposition was encountered by Godwin and the battalion of his regiment at Libmanan, northwest of Nueva Caceres. Godwin's loss was Adjutant Galleher, died of wounds, three enlisted men severely and five slightly wounded. The enemy left 64 dead on the field and many wounded, who were cared for by our medical officers. Godwin captured a number of armed insurgents, 18 Spanish prisoners, 30 rifles and considerable ammunition and property.

"Particulars of minor engagements of other column not reported. Nueva Caceres was found practically deserted inhabitants in mountains. Troops are now covering important points in the provinces of Camarines, Albay and Sorsogon. The navy rendered most valuable aid in landing troops and supplies."

CARTER DENOUNCED

QUAY'S OPPONENTS.

Said He Was Victim of Diabolical Plot to Ruin Him Politically and Financially.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Carter, of Montana, made a speech in the senate, principally for the purpose of explaining why he proposes to vote to seat Colonel Quay, which vote will be in direct conflict with the one he delivered against Corbett but a little more than a year ago. The burden of that explanation was that Corbett came here with an appointment by the governor, made necessary by his revolutionary anarchistic action in preventing the organization of the Oregon legislature, which would have elected Senator Mitchell to succeed himself.

Corbett's hands were unclean. He asked the senate to make him the beneficiary of his own unlawful act. Quay, on the other hand, comes here with clean hands, although the courts were invoked in the effort to help in the execution of a conspiracy to destroy him politically and financially.

He said in part:

"There has been a scheme in Pennsylvania for two years to withhold representation of that state in the senate rather than have Mr. Quay in this body. It is pathetic to go over the history of the struggle to destroy this man. He was made the victim of a court in the state of Pennsylvania, and an indictment was found against him on information filed."

Senator Penrose—I would like to remind the senator that the case was deliberately held over until the legislature had adjourned.

Senator Carter—Yes, the dastardly act of resorting to the machinery of the criminal law of the state was consummated to restrain the legislature from making an election upon the charge that the candidate for the senate would land in the penitentiary. But, Mr. President, the evidence of the prosecution was submitted in the case, and the jury went forth and brought in a verdict of not guilty in an incredibly short period of time. I doubt if the political history of this country has any record of a more deep, dark, damnable, diabolical plot than that.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Considerable miscellaneous business was transacted in the house, but much of it was of a minor character. The most important bills passed were one to ratify a treaty with Comanche, Kiowa and Apache Indians and opening their lands for settlement and one authorizing the secretary of the interior to negotiate with the Kiowa and Comanches for a neutral strip in Oklahoma.

During the consideration of a bill to incorporate the Frederick Douglass Memorial and Historical association the speaker and Mr. Bailey, of Texas, exchanged sharp words, with the result that the latter inaugurated a filibuster and ultimately prevented the final passage of the bill by demanding the reading of the engrossed bill. The bill proposes to collect at the residence of the late Frederick Douglass, in this city, a record of the anti-slavery movement. Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, was appointed to the vacancy on the committee on ways and means, which, it was understood, was originally reserved for General Wheeler had he returned to congress.

FREE TRADE ON HOME PRODUCTS

Senator Davis' Proposed Amendment to Porto Rico Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, offered an amendment to the Porto Rico bill in the senate. Its effect is to have the tariff laws of the United States applied to Porto Rico upon foreign imports, but allows absolute free trade between the United States and Porto Rico.

Hay on Good Footing With Boers.

WASHINGTON, March 6.—A cablegram received at the state department from Adelbert Hay, United States consul at Pretoria, indicates that he is having no trouble whatever in the full exercise of his functions and is on excellent footing with Boer officials, who give him any information desired as to the condition of the British soldiers, prisoners at Pretoria.

An Insinuation.

"I simply had to do it," said Mr. Erastus Pinkly in an apologetic tone "I had to draw my razors so's to hold up my character."

"Did he slander you behind your back?"

"No, suh; 'twas to my face. He axed me what business I was in, an I says 'Raisin chickens.' Den he looked at me solemn an says, 'You doesn' mean "raisin," you means "liftin'.''"—Washington Star.

Peace Loving Woman.

"Did you pay the grocer and butcher Amelia?"

"No; there wasn't enough to pay both of them. To pay only one would make trouble, so I just took the money and spent it down town."—Indianapolis Journal.

Train Derailed on Broad Top Railroad.
Conductor Killed—Two Probably Fatally Hurt.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 6.—An accident to a passenger train on the East Broad Top railroad, at Martin Meadow, resulted in the death of Conductor George W. Briggs, the probable fatal injury of Mine Superintendent Frank Lyon and Grant Schmitt, and the serious injury of a dozen passengers. The accident was caused by a broken rail, and the derailed cars, containing about 100 passengers, were thrown over an embankment.

Scarcely any one of the travelers escaped without some injury. A lone woman passenger and her little babe were extricated from the debris, the former being severely hurt while the babe escaped without a scratch.

PHILADELPHIA, March 6.—In the case of George Y. Jordan and J. Harrison Jordan, trading as the Jordan Publishing company, and John Inschob, an employee, convicted of sending obscene literature by express from this city to Chicago, the Jordans were sentenced, in the United States district court, to pay a fine of $1 and costs and to undergo an imprisonment of two years and six months in the Eastern penitentiary. Inschob was sentenced to one year in the county prison.

In the central police court Magistrate Jermon held Bernard Kline, a street peddler, in $600 bail for trial on the charge of selling copies of Daudet's book "Sapho," which the magistrate held to be an obscene publication."

TOO BUSINESSLIKE.
Stella—Why on earth did Miss Peck this reject Mr. Boomer? He's making lots of money in the advertising business.

Bella—Yes, and he proposed to her by mail in this fashion: "I can place in a few good papers of guaranteed circulation at a minimum cost the following notice (pure reading, top column): 'Engaged—Miss Birdie Peckis to Mr. Howlett Boomer.' If this proposition meets your approval, kindly sign and return by first mail."—Philadelphia Press.

A Painful Memory.

A lady who lives on Morgan street took her 5-year-old son to a photographer's to have his picture taken. She was anxious to secure a good likeness at this particular sitting because she wished to distribute the pictures among some friends who were then her guests.

The child's idea of the affair, however, did not apparently harmonize with that of his mother, for when the man with the camera began to adjust the lens and direct it toward little Edward that young person set up what was unquestionably a howl.

In vain did the mother call into use her utmost forensic abilities. Edward did not want his picture taken.

"Why, my child," she said soothingly, "the gentleman won't hurt you. Just smile and keep still a moment, and it will be all over before you know it."

"Yes, I know, mamma," whimpered the youth, with the tears running down his cheeks, "but that's what you told me at the dentist's."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

A Model of Joy.

"Uncle Ephraim," he said, "if this picture is a success I shall give you, besides the half dollar I promised, the finest and plumpest young pullet in the market."

A grin overspread the shiny face of Uncle Ephraim, but the artist was disappointed. The result was not quite what he had expected.

An inspiration came to his aid.

"Down on South Water street this morning," he went on, "I saw the fat test possum that was ever brought to this town. I am going to get it for you."

"Golly!"
And the picture was a magnificent success.—Chicago Tribune.

Beyond Control.

Gadsby—My wife will raise Cain with me if she discovers that I've been drinking.

Jagsby—All you've got to do is to hold your breath when you go near her.

"That's all right, but I'm afraid it's too strong to be held."—Brooklyn Life
